Viet Cong Down 4 More U.S. Copters

Congress Expected To Approve

Johnson May Seek Funds For New Saigon Embassy

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson may forward to Congress today his request for authority and funds to build a new American embassy in Saigon.

There is no reason to doubt that Congress will do what the President wants — swiftly comply with his request.

Johnson announced his intention in a statement issued late Tuesday afternoon, about 18 hours after terrorists' explosives heavily damaged the embassy in the South Viet Nam capital.

"The terrorist outrage aimed at the American Embassy in Saigon shows us once again what the struggle in Viet Nam is about," the statement said. "This wanton act of ruthlessness has brought death and serious injury to innocent Vietnamese citizens in the street as well as to American and Vietnamese personnel on duty."

It is not known if the presidential statement is the extent of the American response to the attack.

Informed sources discounted any immediate attack on Hanoi, the capital of North Viet Nam. Officials said the statement indicated no special retaliatory action was being planned.

Before it was issued, Johnson conferred for 2½ hours with Secretary of State Dean Rusk, Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara and McGeorge Bundy, special assistant to the President for national security affairs. The four met every week, and their luncheon session had been scheduled in advance of Monday night's explosion.

Late today Johnson is expected to confer with Maxwell D. Taylor, the American ambassador to Saigon who has been in Washington for consultation since last Sunday.

Before Johnson's statement was released, White House press secretary George E. Reedy said when asked about the possibility of retaliatory air strikes: "I wouldn't speculate on the future right now."

The embassy, a five-story building that sits on a corner flush with the street, has been a favorite target of antigovernment.

Rescue Mission To Open Fund Drive On Thursday

A campaign to raise $5,000 with which to liquidate the mortgage on the building will be launched here Thursday by the Community Rescue Mission, 215 Broadway.

Volunteer workers will make house-to-house calls during the solicitation, which will continue through April 18.

Area captains are: Dale Stephens, Pleasant Heights; William Rae, Dan Henderson, Charles Waggoner and Dean DeLong, East End; Ed Wine, Harvey Pickens and William Parsons, Chester area; Eston Maple and Carl Stockdale, North Side; Kenneth Persohn, Wellsville area; Claire Unruh and Roland Edgar, Calcutta area.

The campaign has been approved by Mayor Merrill Hall and the Chamber of Commerce. Each solicitor will be identified by a badge bearing his or her name and the name of the Community Rescue Mission.

Mission officials, in announcing start of the drive, comment: "Our appeal is for $5,000 people to give $1 each. If you are missed during the canvass, contributions may be made by calling any of the above captains or by calling the Mission itself (385-1950)."

"With the debt eliminated, the work of the Mission can be expanded to help meet some of the pressing needs of those who come seeking help."

April 5 through April 9 there will be special music each night at the Mission.

Retired Farmer Dies In Jefferson Blaze

STUEBENVILLE, Ohio (AP) — A retired farmer who lived alone burned to death in a fire that destroyed his three-room frame house Tuesday night.

Firemen said the victim, Elwood Noble, 74, of Rush Run, was burned beyond recognition.

30 Countians Get Notice On Jury Service

LISBON — Thirty countians today received notices by mail to report to the Courthouse Tuesday at 9 a. m. for possible selection on the April Grand Jury.

Common Pleas Judge Raymond S. Buzzard, who will swear in the Grand Jury Tuesday morning, will handle criminal cases in the new term of court.

The April term will officially open at noon Monday, with a County Bar Association dinner at the Veterans of Foreign Wars dining room, followed by a business meeting at the Courthouse.

Prosecuting Atty. J. Warren Bettis and James D. Prim Jr., assistant, said there are approximately 20 cases for the jury's consideration.

The prosecutor's office has a

Walkie-Talkie

Boy Thought He Diverted Copter

ANAHEIM, Calif. (AP) — Jeff Donofrio, Craig Lestmann and Mike Hadsall, fellow fourth graders at Central Baptist Day School in Anaheim, ran outside at recess to play with Craig's walkie-talkie.

A helicopter flew overhead. On its fuselage was the legend: "U.S. Marines 708."

Suddenly Jeff heard a voice say: "This is 708 calling Central."

Quick as a wink, Jeff answered: "Go to San Francisco."

"Shall I call Peterson or will you?" the voice said.

"You call," Jeff answered.

"Okay," said the voice. And off buzzed the helicopter.

Next day — Tuesday — the school secretary became concerned when she noticed the same helicopter hovering over the schoolyard. She called nearby Los Alamitos Naval Air Station to find out what was going on.

"Oh, that aircraft is investigating ground interference with our radio channels," a voice told her.

SAIGON, Viet Nam (AP) — Viet Cong gunners shot down four U.S. helicopters today in a savage fight in central Viet Nam. Three American crewmen were killed and 15 wounded.

The action was one of four major operations of the day, carried out as U.S. Embassy personnel returned to their bomb-shattered offices in Saigon under the protection of tighter new security measures.

About 45 American and Vietnamese fighter-bombers attacked four radar stations in North Viet Nam. A military spokesman said one U.S. Air Force F100 jet was shot down, but the pilot parachuted and was rescued uninjured.

In a related action, U.S. Navy jets from the carriers Coral Sea and Hancock attacked the radar station at Cape Ron and a military complex at Vinh Son.

A Hanoi dispatch broadcast from Peking declared 12 of the raiders were shot down.

South Viet Nam's official press agency announced the fourth operation — a strike by 100 U.S. and South Vietnamese bombers at a munitions depot and training center of a Viet Cong regiment at Boi Loi, 55 miles northwest of Saigon.

"The Boi Loi area was engulfed in a sea of fire," the agency said in a broadcast dispatch. "Pilots reported all planes taking part returned safely to the Bien Hoa Air Base."

Twenty-five American helicopters and elements of a Vietnamese government regiment were heavily engaged by Viet Cong forces three miles north of Viet An, a strategic center south of Da Nang Air Base.

Two U.S. Marine helicopter men died in their craft and 16

Iberia Plane Plunges Into Sea; 51 Dead

Of 19 Marine helicopters in the action, all were reported hit by ground fire. Six Army helicopters also were engaged in the fight, which still raged at dusk.

There was no indication that the raid on North Viet Nam was in retaliation for the Viet Cong bombing of the U.S. Embassy in Saigon Tuesday.

The targets were all in the area of Vinh, a coastal city about 160 miles north of the 17th Parallel and the same distance south of Hanoi.

South Vietnamese troops appeared to be engaged in another major battle with the Communists for the hilltop redoubt at Viet An, commanding the approach to Tam Ky, capital of Quang Tin Province.

Racial Climate Changes For Better In Alabama

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP) — Some evidence of a change for the better in the racial climate appeared in the cities where the voter rights march began and ended and where services were held for a civil rights worker slain by night riders.

State troopers and sheriff's possmen were not in evidence Tuesday as black-robed women walked behind black-draped wooden caskets bearing the names of persons killed in the civil rights struggle.

There were no incidents. Only a few white spectators watched in Selma and Montgomery.

Ten empty caskets were placed on the sidewalk at the bottom of the steps leading to the state Capitol in Montgomery when Mills Cowling, head of the department in charge of state property, ordered a halt.

There they remained during a prayer and some talk. The marchers' parade permit expired at 6 p.m. and they left without the caskets. A city truck carried them away.

In Selma, two civil rights leaders called off mass meetings and demonstrations for the rest of the week. They urged the time be spent in preparing for the opening of the Dallas County voter registrar's office Monday.

An Associated Press newsmen in Selma said there appeared to be much less tension and the city of 29,000 was like many another Southern community enjoying warm spring weather.

Wilson Baker, the public safety director, was in his office at City Hall. Sheriff James G. Clark also worked in his office.

But, he said, "It is too early to say whether it was a fruitful meeting. We called for an end to police brutality and we urged the governor to help do away with the climate of violence and hatred that will consume us all."

Another of the conferees, the Rev. F. D. Reese of Selma, noted that Wallace shook hands with the Negroes "and even patted me on the back as we left."

Wallace did not comment after the session. His press secretary, Bill Jones, described the meeting as very friendly and frank. He said the governor re-

Anti-Discrimination Plan On Housing Due For Vote

By WILLIAM S. VANCE
Review Staff Correspondent

COLUMBUS — A bill to make the first inroads in Ohio against racial discrimination in housing was on the track today toward expected passage in the Ohio Senate.

The fair housing measure cleared its first hurdle Tuesday when the Senate Commerce and Labor Committee voted, 5-2, to recommend passage of a compromise bill hammered out by a sub-committee.

Responsibility for moving the bill to the Senate floor now rests with the Republican-controlled rules committee. Five votes are needed to spring the bill out of the eight-member committee.

Senate Democratic Leader Frank King of Toledo said he and two other Democrats on the Committee will vote to put the bill on the floor. That means only two of the five Republican votes are needed.

GOP Leader Theodore M. Gray, R-Miami, said even though the bill is sponsored by a Republican — Sen. Charles Whalen of Dayton — it will not be made "a policy bill."

"My personal opinion one way or another on this bill will not endanger or enhance its getting on the floor," Gray said.

Gray and the other four Republicans on the committee — Sens. William Deddens and Fred Hoffman of Cincinnati, Robert Shaw of Columbus and Ross Pepple of Lima — remained non-committal, saying they want to study the measure before taking a position.

But the fact that the bill will now live or die depending on the Republicans' vote is regarded here as assurance it will come before the full Senate.

Sen. Charles H. Jones, R-Butler, indicated as much in explaining his vote in committee.

"This is too critical an issue to be bottled up in this committee," he said. "The entire Legislature should have a right to vote on it."

The Whalen compromise bill includes portions of the tougher bill sponsored by King.

It would prohibit discrimination in the sale or rental of all new housing and would ban discrimination by all lending agencies.

The bill also would outlaw restrictive covenants in deeds, leases or rental agreements and would prohibit brokers from misrepresenting the present or future nature of neighborhoods in making a sale — a practice commonly known as "blockbusting."

However, most housing in Ohio would be exempted from the law. Owners or their agents could discriminate if they chose in the sale of owner-occupied dwellings with up to four units.

The law would be enforced by the Ohio Civil Rights Commission, which would not have

Registrars Swamped In Rush For Licenses

Deputy registrars throughout the East Liverpool area faced crowded offices today as motorists started the last-minute rush to obtain 1965 Ohio auto licenses.

The 1964 green and white tags will expire at midnight tonight and the new red and white tags then will be required. Some registrars will maintain later hours tonight to help accommodate the last-minute rush.

Midnight tonight also is the deadline for Pennsylvania drivers to display new blue and yellow tags.

3 Injured Picked Up By Fishing Boat Off Morocco Coast

TANGIER, Morocco (AP) — A twin-engine Iberia Airlines plane plunged into the sea today a few minutes before it was scheduled to land in Tangier and 51 of the 54 persons aboard apparently died.

A fishing vessel picked up three badly injured passengers. Three Spanish fishing boats picked up 47 bodies, said a report from Gibraltar, across the Strait from Tangier.

The pilot called the Tangier control tower shortly before the crash. At that time nothing out of the ordinary was mentioned. He was supposed to call back but did not.

The Convair plane carried 49 passengers and five crew members.

Iberia officials said it was believed the passengers included 36 Swedes, 11 Germans and 2 Britons.

The Convair had flown from Malaga, a mecca for Swedish tourists on the southern coast of Spain. It was preparing to land at Tangier, on Morocco's northern coast.

The Spanish trawler Virgen de Carmilo gave the alert soon after that the plane had dropped into the sea about three miles off Cap Espartel. The trawler reported later it had picked up

Steel Union Asks 12-Cent Hourly Boost

PITTSBURGH (AP) — The United Steelworkers of America asked the basic steel industry for pay raises that could exceed 65 cents an hour over a three-year period, it was learned today.

The wage demands break down this way:

1. A flat hourly increase of 12.5 cents an hour in the first and third years of a three-year contract.

2. Double time for all overtime.

3. A flat 10 per cent raise for all workers who do not belong to an incentive program.

4. A periodic shortening of the work week from 40 hours to 32.

The emphasis on wages came as a big surprise since David J. McDonald, union president, has been saying for months he wanted total job security for his workers.

A source in the industry, who is close to the talks, said that at first glance the package appeared to represent the views of I. W. Abel, USW secretary-treasurer who has challenged McDonald for the union presidency.

The economic demands were drawn up by Joseph Molony, director of the USW Buffalo, N.Y., district, who ran for vice president on the Abel slate.

Abel took charge of the union's steel industry negotiations while McDonald is in California for upcoming contract talks with Kaiser Steel Corp.

In Saigon, U.S. Embassy personnel returned to their bomb-battered offices under the protection of tight security measures. Only about half of the embassy staff was at work, and many of those were heavily bandaged.

Two more Vietnamese died of injuries suffered in Tuesday's Communist terrorists' attack, bringing the casualty toll to two Americans and 18 Vietnamese dead; 65 Americans and nearly 100 Vietnamese wounded.

Eleven Americans were under treatment in the U.S. Navy Hospital. Seven other Americans, either seriously wounded or requiring specialists' care, were flown to Clark Air Base in the Philippines.

Access routes to the five-story embassy building were closed or patrolled by steel-helmeted police. Security was extremely tight. A police source said the street where the blast occurred

Says 'Time Is Ripe' Lorain Educator Speaks On County College Plans

LISBON — "The time is ripe for a community college program in Columbiana County," Dr. Max Lerner, president of the Lorain Community College, told some 65 county education leaders and others Tuesday night at the McKinley School.

Dr. Lerner spoke to the subcommittee on higher education of the County's Regional Planning Commission in the third of a series of meetings on advanced education.

The committee previously had visited the Salem Technical School and heard plans outlined for establishment of a new Kent State University Academic Center in East Liverpool in the fall.

At last night's meeting, Dr. Lerner described the launching of the Lorain County Community College which opened last September with 1,007 students, and for which construction is slated for an $8 million campus.

Currently the college, which serves the industrialized area along Lake Erie, including Elyria and Lorain in Lorain County which has a population of 250,000, is utilizing former public school buildings.

The county's voters approved a 1.25-mill college levy for 10 years, and qualified for $3 million in state construction aid, he said.

The college provides basic freshman and sophomore university-level courses, along with technical career training programs and a special studies division for adults who seek to obtain educational programs.

Dr. Lerner said he believes the community college is vitally needed throughout Ohio where four-year colleges and communities are overcrowded and unable to serve the needs for the greatly expanding high school graduate population.

He cited the success of the community or junior colleges in California, Michigan and Florida.

Dr. Lerner said, in his opinion

Joint Project Backed

Vocational School Given State's Recommendation

Establishment of one or two joint vocational schools in Columbiana County has been recommended by the Division of Vocational Education of the Ohio Department of Education. A report of a survey made by the division late last year was released this week by B. R. Shoemaker, director, through the office of County Supt. James L. McBride.

The study indicated the schools in the county — those in the city and village districts along with the county system — would support a very broad vocational education program, but none of the individual districts could support such a program.

THE REPORT suggested the county consider two basic programs — a single joint vocational school, centrally located, to serve 800 to 1,000 students, or two separate JVS centers, each serving 400 to 500 students.

The need for a vocational training program for students not planning to attend college has been underscored by county school and civic leaders for some years.

According to the survey of 3,468 high school students in the county, 505 or 14 per cent were planning to attend college and had no desire for vocational training.

HOWEVER, 77.5 per cent were interested in vocational training and 44 per cent indicated were interested in further education or training other than college after high school.

The report said the total property valuation of all the county's school districts amounted to $222 million, enough to provide for a broad vocational program not possible on the tax valuation of a single district.

It was pointed out the third quarter 1964 occupation report indicated shortages of workers in Columbiana County of machinists, machine tool operators, tool and die makers, qualified secretaries and clerk stenographers.

"A STUDY of labor market and industrial trends would also reveal the need for establishment of programs to serve out-of-school youth and adults," the report said.

The report made specific proposals on guidance programs to aid in the vocational system, agriculture training, business and office training, trade and industrial training and distributive education.

The report lists steps for county boards of education and officials to take in consideration the proposed joint vocational school setup.

Boards and administrators will review the report, and determine on participating or not.

A COMMITTEE would be formed to acquaint the public with the program and prepare a plan for establishment of the JVS. This committee would represent every school district, along with labor, business and industry.

The committee would determine the areas of vocational education to be included, estimate costs of buildings, equipment and operations and submit a plan to the State Board of Education. If approved by the state board, the plan would be submitted to each of the county's school boards.

If approved by the boards, a joint vocational school district would be created and a joint vocational board of education appointed. The new board would set up operation procedures, make plans for buildings and programs, determine financial needs and submit levies or bond issues to the public, and launch the program.

Century-Old Mailbox Found In Kashmir

LONDON (AP) — The Post Office Record Department reports that it has found a 100-year-old British mail box on the edge of the Himalayas in Kashmir.

The mail box (the British call them pillar boxes) was exported from London to its 7,000-foot-high perch to serve a British army unit a century ago.

The search for historic boxes, launched recently, has increased the cache of the old boxes from 23 to 130.

Meetings Slated To Issue Tips On Cutting Weight

LISBON — A series of eight meetings on "Operation Streamline," to help in weight control, will be sponsored by the Columbiana County Cooperative Extension Service and anyone interested in losing weight may enroll, according to Miss Ann Overturf, county extension agent in home economics.

The first meeting will be held April 12 at 1 p.m. at the St. George Parish Hall and registration should be made with Miss Overturf by April 5. A Monday group also may be formed if enough people are interested, she said.

A few of the topics which will be included in the series are:

Philosophy and medical importance of weight reduction; calorie counting and 1,200-calorie diets; menu planning for the dieter and the family; emotions and overweight; low calorie desserts and refreshments; clothing to appear slender; and remodeling clothing, and hair styling and make-up for the slender face.

All participants will be encouraged to check with their doctor for his advice before attending these classes, Miss Overturf said.

Whose Business Is It?

The question will not be answered by events in either Alabama or South Vietnam?

It was not answered in South Korea — not in the European and Pacific theaters of war during World War II.

Nor was it answered in Cuba and the Philippines in the Spanish-American War. Perhaps it cannot be answered.

Whose business is it when human beings at some other place on this troubled earth are pleading for help against abuse and oppression?

Who should stand by their side against oppression?

Who should sacrifice his life if necessary to prove that men live by some rule higher than the dog-eat-dog rule of a physical and moral jungle?

SHOULD THE Boston preacher and the Detroit housewife who were clubbed down and shot down by angry Alabamians have stayed home and refused to involve themselves in the fight over voting rights in Selma?

Should all the men of God and the dedicated servants of the church who went to Selma to make their support manifest to Negroes have stayed home, performing routine functions of religiosity?

Or did religion — their real religion — oblige them to go to the scene of trouble?

And for all who didn't go and would not have gone under any circumstances, is there any reason to deliver harsh judgment against those who did go?

IN THIS WIDE world, there have been only handfuls of humans who have cared enough to go to the side of those who were in trouble. The hordes have stayed away. They have wrapped their cloaks about them and passed on the other side of the road.

They have declined to become involved in the affairs of mankind.

Among the nations, the United States has made itself famous for its willingness to become involved.

American missionaries are world-famed. American generosity is world-famed.

Americans not only have dispensed money resources but personal skill in the far corners of the earth.

They have done this to such an extreme they have been accused of interference. They have been so willing to intervene, in the name of mankind, that they have sometimes created resentment. But they never have turned their backs.

"YANKEE GO HOME!" has become a catchword in many places abroad.

Whose business is it, really, when human beings need help in defense of their rights? Who should stand by their side?

Is it not strange that Americans are standing by the side of people fighting for human rights in many foreign lands while Americans who journey to a place like Selma, Ala., to show token support, are criticized for not minding their own business?

Whose business is it when human rights are denied?

Showdown On Nullification

The nation can hope and should pray for a final settlement of the civil rights fight over the right of Negroes everywhere to register and vote.

But because hope and prayer have availed so little since the Civil War, it is time for direct action at a point where leverage could produce a momentous effect.

All who have taken special oaths to defend and uphold the U.S. Constitution should be reminded of their duty.

If they are members of bar associations, licensed to practice by public authority and privileged to hold membership by virtue of professional attainment, they should be reminded by their professional peers.

If they are members of state legislatures or the U.S. Congress, they should be reminded, first, by the officers of those bodies, then by the appropriate committees of Congress and finally by the U.S. Department of Justice.

THROUGH THE YEARS, a certain kind of legalist has specialized in subverting constitutional guarantees of full citizenship for Negroes.

These lawyers, particularly those who resided in Southern states, have presumed to uphold a regional policy they claimed to be higher than the unmistakably plain language of the Constitution.

In the U.S. Congress and in state legislatures, lawyers like these have sought to nullify the basic law they were under oath to uphold.

Without their persistence and ingenuity, the systematic attack on the Constitution could not have been maintained. Men untrained in the law could not have mastered the legal jumbo or mastered the arguments that paralyzed the guarantee of citizenship for Negroes for upward of a century.

This is the significance of the showdown in 1965. Anti-Constitutionalists are being shoved to the wall by the administration of the first Southern president of the United States, Lyndon B. Johnson was called for a showdown.

CONGRESS, long dominated by Southerners, due to the one-party system that gave them seniority, is being challenged to affirm that the 15th amendment to the Constitution, which gave full voting rights to Negroes and full power to Congress to enforce the voting rights, shall be enforced.

Once more, anti-Constitution lawyers and legislators are ganging up for a last-ditch fight.

They are not proposing repeal of the 13th, 14th and 15th amendments—nothing that bold. They know they would be licked on repeal. But once more they are advocating nullification, especially of the 15th amendment.

It is a couple of generations past time for them to be licked on nullification, too.

When The Circus Comes North

Ringling Brothers and Barnum & Bailey — the Big One — opens another stand April 1 in Madison Square Garden, New York City.

The show has been moving north from winter quarters in Venice, Fla., for weeks. It has been a long but successful comeback since it folded on the road in 1956, a victim of union trouble, weather, high overhead and its own size.

When it reopened a year later, the heavy equipment and menagerie were gone. It now plays in auditoriums and ball parks. Its comeback is one of the pleasant tales of show business.

More than three dozen circuses are expected to roam the length and breadth of the land this year, spilling over into Canada and Mexico. "Amusement Business" reports that the Ringling show will play three-day stands in Western Canada for the first time since 1939 in conjunction with the 1965 Calgary Exhibition and Stampede and the Edmonton Exhibition—

Klondike Days. A new sort of location for the smaller, almost family troupes is the neighborhood shopping center.

The circus in America goes back to the days when the land was young, and in Europe before that for centuries. Indeed, the word traces back to the Circus Maximus, the third century, B.C. home of the Roman races.

Europe today supports itinerant family circuses, much like those in the United States, and these are annually combed for America's bigger shows and other "national" circuses. The Moscow State Circus, which has performed in this country, is one of the world's greatest.

The love affair between newspaper people and the circus is an annual scandal. Only baseball teams get so much free space for so little advertising. But then, most newspaper people always have in them something of a child — and a deep-seated envy of the clowns.

Still A Ceremony

We used to nail discarded auto license plates to the inside of the garage wall for souvenirs.

To be truthful, it was a barn wall and we nailed the old plates on it to cover up knot-holes. But they did make good souvenirs.

Everything about autos was ritualistic in the early days of go-go madness.

Getting new plates and installing them was a ceremony. It still is.

In spite of stainless steel nuts and bolts that do not rust and can be taken on and off indefinitely, auto license plate display is as far from modern functional design as short-handed shovels, hub caps, and shower baths.

Some bonehead who designed the fixtures on my otherwise functional car came out with a beaut — license-plate thingumbob that cannot be reassembled with less than three hands.

It takes one hand for the screwdriver, one for the nut the bolt is going to be turned into and one to squeeze into a closed position the circle of springy metal that holds the whole thing to a bumper guard.

This seems to be no problem at first glance.

The first time that pesky circle of springy metal pins the bolt across the garage like a stone coming out of a catapult, you laugh wryly and say, "Whoa there."

By the 10th time, you are out of horse-type comments and getting into standard combinations of cursing.

When it ultimately is made clear that the job cannot be done with less than three hands the time has come for imaginative remarks about the sadistic and-so, whelped in the black of night in some accursed outpost of a back country by an outcast mother with a werewolf for a father without benefit of either compassion or clergy . . . that sort of thing.

Why in the name of all that's bruised and bleeding can't auto license plates be displayed where they belong, in plastic holders affixed to the inside of windshields and rear windows?

Why can't the plates themselves be made of plastic without knifelike cutting edges?

And why, as long as we are redeeming mankind, can't it be worked out so that a driver buys license plates to be token his right to operate a car, said plates to be snatched away from him and locked up if he proves he is not to be trusted on the highway?

In Dixieland I Took My Stand . . .

He Loves Capital, But Not Capitalism

By Victor Riesel

It's flattering to be described by an usually vituperative opponent as a well known writer, a man of courage and an enemy of the revolution. Thus I was referred to by the official radio and press of the Republic of Ghana in recent broadcasts.

This official generosity Victor Riesel was not compounded by other kindness. Ghana's propagandists zeroed in with sharp insults because this column had reported favorably the launching of an African - American Labor Center by AFL-CIO President George Meany.

What incenses the Ghanaian government is the African-American Labor Center's effort to encourage U.S. capital investments in Africa. What angers the government of President Dr. Kwame Nkrumah is Mr. Meany's efforts to win the cooperation of African unions and labor in a drive mutually beneficial to some 35 nations and the U.S. as well.

The radio and press attacks on this column are also filled with blasts against American employers, labor and official U.S. policies. Obviously the criticism is meant to alienate the people of Ghana from Western democracy. The broadcasts were aimed at the African interior.

THE LANGUAGE of these attacks upon the U.S. is sharp, often vulgar. Yet Ghana now has a trade mission traveling through Western lands, Canada and the U.S. seeking long-term credits.

This mission was dispatched by Ghana's Finance Minister Kwasi Amoako Atta earlier this year. There already are huge American investments in Ghana. Before it became a one-party state, many big American corporations made heavy investments there.

These include International Business Machines Corp., The Pillsbury Co., The Minnesota Mining & Manufacturing Co., Chas. Pfizer & Co., Inc. (drugs), the National Cash Register Co., the Singer Sewing Machine Co., Kaiser Engineers International and several oil firms.

GRIN AND BEAR IT

"Claims the foul-up in his books comes from helping his kid with school homework! . . . Says he's been doing his bookkeeping with the new math!"

The money, skill, technicians and good will of these businesses have kept the pivotal African nation alive. Without them Ghana would be one vast camp of the unemployed.

STILL IN NEED of support, Ghana maintains a trade and investment office in New York City seeking to convince other American firms to pour millions into the country once known as the Gold Coast.

Yet Ghana's president, Nkrumah, sees to it that little knowledge of America's support seeps through to the people. Instead, Ghana has become the center of anti-American operations across most of that continent.

Much of the anti-U.S. activity is centered in the All-Africa Trade Union Federation (AATUF) based in the capital city of Accra. There, under the direction of an astute organizer, John Tettegah, the AATUF unleashes vitriolic blasts against the anti-communist nations in general and the U.S. specifically.

Early in February Mr. Tettegah made the rounds of African nations organizing labor unions against the U.S. On his return to Accra he summoned the AATUF executive bureau to a general council meeting on Feb. 10.

IT MET and prepared to launch an international committee for solidarity with the peoples and workers of the Congo. These "people and workers" are the pro - Communist rebel forces which have been unspeakably bestial in recent months.

The AATUF's actions are not a regional matter. It may yet be globally significant. President Nkrumah and Mr. Tettegah plan to make it the dominant continentwide labor federation.

To do this they must first destroy the anti-Communist union organizations supported by George Meany and the new African - American Labor Center headquartered in New York City.

The AATUF, actually President Nkrumah's personal labor federation, supports special training camps set up in Ghana to turn out fighters against the pro-American Congolese government in Leopoldville.

PRESIDENT NKRUHMAH'S labor federation supported the hundreds of youths who as recently as March 12 burned the U.S. Information Service Center and attacked the U.S. Embassy in Accra.

President Nkrumah's labor outfit is the base of his power and his party's drive to create a Socialist state in Ghana. That is why when Mr. Meany's African - American Labor Center wrote to 35 African governments and many labor movements there urging them to respond with ideas for U.S. capital investment, where it could benefit friendly countries and free peoples, President Nkrumah unleashed his propaganda apparatus.

Since President Nkrumah has such affinity for American capital if it's invested in his country and such distaste for the American capitalism and freedom, his views should be made public.

Lone hope for the kite, according to the ornithologists, is to restore and maintain adequate water areas where the snails can flourish and the birds find ample marsh vegetation for nesting.

Unequal Rights

By David Lawrence

Court Ruling On Labor Action Questioned

The Supreme Court of the United States, in two decisions on Monday, not only, in effect, enacted legislation but took away from employers their constitutional right to operate a business without coercion from any quarter.

The high court ruled that an employer has David Lawrence "the absolute right to terminate his entire business for any reason he pleases," but that this does not include the right to close a part of it, no matter how justified he may believe it to be for economic or any other reasons — if at the same time he can be accused of trying to discourage unionization of his employees.

The court felt that the moment an employer does anything to discourage union activity, he is committing "an unfair labor practice."

While the existing statutes do not specifically define it that way, the high court now has added this interpretation to the Taft-Hartley Act.

A U.S. Court of Appeals, in the so-called Darlington Case, had ruled that an independent employer could liquidate the whole or any part of his business, and that to do so was not "an unfair labor practice." The Supreme Court said that the owner's objective now would have to be proved in court not to be "to chill unionism in any of the remaining plants" of the same owner.

THE ISSUE revolved around the right of an employer to close one part of his plant and not another. Yet labor unions can call a strike in a division of a company in one city and not in another, even though both plants are owned by the same company.

To give the unions the right to close down one of several plants owned by a single employer, while denying the employer the right to close any of his plants in a struggle with a union, emphasizes an inconsistency which is nowhere explained in the high court's decision.

The alleged sin committed in 1956 by the parent company—Deering Milliken and Co.—was in closing a subdivision of its operation, known as Darlington Manufacturing Co. The court said this might be construed to be hostile to the union.

Although the employer may have actually intended to discourage unionism, there is nothing in the existing law or the Constitution which says that a man cannot operate his property at minimum expense.

There are many employers who feel that unionization will increase their expenses and compel them to raise prices and perhaps force them to close down some of their plants.

THE SUPREME COURT took no cognizance of this economic contingency but ruled on the case solely on the ground that there might be antagonism to the formation of a labor union.

In another case handed down on the same day, involving the American Shipbuilding Co., the Supreme Court ruled that whether an employer shuts down all of his plant or even a part of it, he can do so provided it is only a "lockout." In other words, if he temporarily lays off his employees during a labor dispute "to bring economic pressure in support of his bargaining position," this is legitimate.

The court's reasoning in this instance is that the layoff is "temporary" and is a part of a collective-bargaining process.

Realistically, a temporary "lockout" could produce a permanent closing, and it would obviously be due to a difference of opinion between the employer and the union. Yet the high court ruled that "lockouts" are legitimate and lawful, whether the employer closes down all of his plant or only a part of it.

THE DISTINCTION between the two cases lies in the fact that in the one instance no union had been recognized for collective - bargaining purposes, while in the other a "lockout" was held to be part of the collective-bargaining process.

What the Supreme Court has overlooked is that labor unions have the right to close down any division of an employer's business at any time they wish. They can refuse to go back to work for an indefinite period of time — indeed, in some instances, strikes have lasted for several years.

The employer can be put out of business altogether but if he himself takes the initiative at any time to close down a plant during a labor dispute, he can be charged with "an unfair labor practice," although in this connection Congress never specified an offense under such circumstances.

What the Supreme Court has done is to define "an unfair labor practice" as something which the employer does, but there is no corresponding "unfair labor practice" on the part of labor unions, especially when persons who have no connection with a company engage in picketing and boycotting which could result in the financial downfall of a business.

Probe Of Ku Klux Klans

By James Marlow

WASHINGTON When Congress investigates the Ku Klux Klans—there are at least 14—it will find they are too split by bickering and rivalries to form a single national organization under one leader.

The total membership is probably not over 15,000 although they spread across the Southern states and some leaders have made fantastic claims about numbers. The members in general are not credited with very high intelligence.

The fact that in this free and open society so many men would find it necessary to hide under a hood necessarily raises questions about their stability and their purpose.

They proclaim their patriotism but their main target is Negroes, with Catholics, Jews and the foreign-born secondary targets. They have added a new target in recent years: the "Communist conspiracy."

Klansmen live in a childlike world of hoods, robes, symbols, secret membership and passwords, and the kind of titles that would be more appropriate in a fairy tale than in the kind of grisly world klansmen see.

But the actions of some of them are not at all childlike, as Chairman Edwin E. Willis, D-La., of the House Committee on Un-American Activities pointed out to reporters Tuesday after the committee unanimously voted to examine the Klans.

He said preliminary inquiries indicate that "shocking crimes are carried out by highly secret action groups within the Klans" known as "knockout squads" or "holy terrors."

The actions of these goon squads are disclaimed by Klan officials when they are caught, Willis said, "to protect those Klan leaders who are parties to the crimes committed and to mislead Klan membership and the public."

As far there is no public evidence that Klan leaders knew beforehand of any of the crimes charged to klansmen or that klansmen in general knew. But the Klans have had, and still have, a vicious history.

Corruption was piled on top of murder in the past. As late as 1955 five Klans — no longer in existence, at least under their old names — were on the attorney general's list of subversive organizations. No new list has been issued in the past 10 years.

Klans vary in size. The smallest — the Mississippi Knights of the Ku Klux Klan — reportedly is a one-man Klan operating on the Mississippi Gulf coast. The largest, with about 5,000 members, is the United Klans of America, Inc., with headquarters in Tuscaloosa, Ala. It has members in eight Southern states.

Funds are raised through a rich patron in the background or through initiation fees — $10 to $25 — and dues — $6 to $24 a year — or meeting-donations collected in buckets.

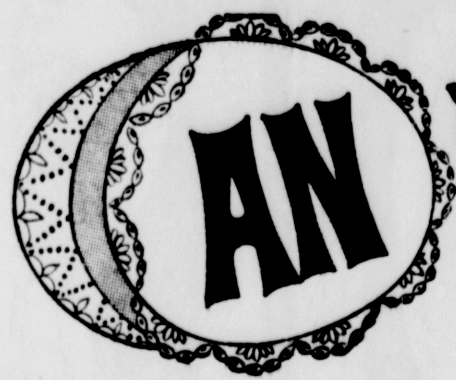

Some money is made selling klansmen their robes. White ones sell for around $15 but usually cost half that much. The color of a robe is a status symbol in the Klans. An ordinary member dresses in white, officers wear black, red, green, or gold robes. The imperial wizard wears purple satin.

Israel occupies an area smaller than Vermont, and is only 6 1/2 miles wide at its narrowest point.

Miss Suzanne Culp Weds In Wellsville Church Rites

Miss Suzanne Maxine Culp, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Stanton W. Culp of Wellsville R. D. 1, and Robert William Childs, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Childs of Smiths Ferry, were united in marriage the afternoon of March 21 at 2:30 o'clock at the Central Methodist Church in Wellsville.

The Rev. Richard O. Maurer, pastor, officiated for the double-ring ceremony before an altar banked with two vases of white mums and orchid carnations with an orchid backdrop. Twin candelabra and palms were on both sides of the altar. Satin bows, with artificial orchids in the center, marked the family pews.

Ralph Falconer, organist, presented a half-hour of wedding music. Miss Joyce Westlake sang "I Love You Truly" and "Because." Falconer played "The Lord's Prayer" as the couple knelt before the altar.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a full length gown of white satin, made by her mother. It was softly pleated at the waist and ended in a short chapel train. The fitted bodice of Chantilly lace was styled with a scalloped neckline and long tapered sleeves and fastened in the back with tiny satin covered buttons. Her fingertip veil of silk illusion was held in place by a crown of seed pearls and rhinestones. She carried a cascade bouquet of white gardenias centered with artificial orchid flowers.

For something old, the bride carried a white handkerchief which belonged to her paternal great-grandmother. The bride's only jewelry was a cultured pearl, a gift of the bridegroom.

Miss Linda Culp was her sister's maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Miss Kathy Broderick, a friend of the bride, and Miss Lynn Smith, niece of the bridegroom. They wore orchid street-length dresses of satin faced with peau de soie and fashioned on the same lines as the bride's gown, with the exception of the short scalloped sleeves. They carried colonial bouquets of white and orchid carnations.

The headpieces were Dior bows made from the same material as their dresses, with attached theater length veils. Their accessories also were orchid and they wore heart-shaped necklaces, gifts of the bride.

Mrs. Betty French, Mrs. Jean Burgess and Mrs. Maude Campbell won prizes in 500 at a meeting of the Triple Trio Club Monday night with Mrs. Artie Balmanti of Phoenix Ave. Two tables were in play.

Lunch was served by the hostess and Mrs. Ruth Elliott.

Next meeting will be held April 12 with Mrs. Campbell of Neptune Ave.

Mrs. Thelma West and Mrs. Ilene Barnhart won prizes in bridge at a meeting of the 43-40 Club Monday night at the home of Mrs. Mary Lou Welch of Indiana Ave.

Two tables were in play. Mrs.

MRS. ROBERT CHILDS
Smiths Ferry Man's Bride.

The bride's mother wore a two-piece nylon lace dress in ice blue with matching accessories and a corsage of yellow rosebuds. The bridegroom's mother wore a two-piece dress in rose silk, with black accessories and a corsage of pink rosebuds.

Charles Guthrie Jr. served as best man and ushers were Robert Varner and Larry Varner, cousins of the bride. They received leather key cases from the bridegroom.

A reception for 200 followed in the church social rooms. The buffet table, covered with a white linen cloth, was centered with a three-tiered wedding cake topped with a miniature bride and groom. The bride's table featured orchid candles and places were marked with miniature paper bride couples.

In charge was Mrs. John Curry and aides included Mrs. Raymond Lowry, Mrs. Don Wood, Mrs. Melvin Martin, Mrs. Lloyd Oldaker and Mrs. Paul Mihanik. Miss Debbie Pittenger registered guests from Dayton, Columbus, West Lafayette, Prospect, Toronto, Canton, Beloit, Smiths Ferry, Midland, Louisville and Warren. The bride is a 1964 graduate of Wellsville High School and was employed at the Dime Bank in Canton. The bridegroom is a 1963 graduate of Western Beaver High School in Industry and is employed at the American Steel Co. in Alliance.

The newlyweds are residing in a newly-furnished house at Beloit.

Edith Jester was awarded travel prize. Mrs. Vannie McHenry was a guest.

Lunch was served by the hostess and her daughter, Cindy.

The next meeting will be held April 12 with Mrs. Helen Jackson of Neptune Ave.

The Bible Searchers Class of the Methodist Church will meet Thursday night at 7:30 in the church lounge with Mrs. Blanche Cook and Mrs. Margaret McCutcheon as hostesses.

Crescent Chapter 49, Order of Eastern Star, will meet Thursday night at 8 o'clock in the Masonic Temple with Mrs. Helen Matthew, worthy matron, presiding.

Miss Susan Lewis will be lesson leader at a meeting of the Grandview Farm Women's Club Thursday night at 7:30 o'clock with Mrs. Denise Bowen of 6th and Washington Sts., Newell.

A crazy hat sale will be featured. Mrs. LaRue Hoyt is president.

Mrs. Martha Handley and Miss Ruth Eppley were in charge of the devotional topic, "Forty Days of Lent," at a meeting of the Friendship Class of the Methodist Church Monday night with Miss Eppley of Carolina Ave.

An article, "One Solitary Life," was read by Mrs. Handley. Miss Eppley presented a poem, "Easter Reflection." Miss Mahala Ingram, vice-president, presided.

Plans were discussed for a rummage sale to be held June 7-12 at the Ewing Building.

Prizes in games were awarded Miss Ingram and Mrs. Forrest Campbell, a guest.

Lunch was served to 15 by the hostess and Mrs. Handley, associate hostess.

The next meeting will be held April 26.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur DeLong, 1020 Washington St., were honored with a dinner and party Saturday night in observance of their silver wedding anniversary, with friends and relatives attending.

The dinner was served to 21 at the Willows Motel in Industry. Table decorations were pink and silver, with a floral centerpiece of pink carnations and white snapdragons, centered with a silver money tree. A five-tiered wedding cake was topped with the inscription, "25th Anniversary."

Gifts were presented to the couple. Mrs. DeLong received a corsage made of two white orchids and DeLong and the couple's son, Gregg, each received a white carnation.

The couple, family and friends then went to the home of Eddy DeLong, brother of DeLong. The table there was decorated in silver and white, with a centerpiece of silver flowers flanked by silver candelas.

Mrs. DeLong was presented two new rings by her husband and a silver pendant by her son, who also presented DeLong with a silver tie tack. Mrs. DeLong presented her husband silver cuff links.

The couple was married in the Newell Nazarene Church by outs, including Red Jones of Youngstown U. Fame, will be performing for the Auto Body five which goes after its second straight title.

THE TITLE holders will take the floor at 8 p. m. facing Thompson's of a team made up of local talent from Wellsville. A victory tonight would send Auto Body against the winner of tonight's Beaver Falls - Easton Insurance game on Thursday.

Rounding out a four-game card tonight will be Ralph's Soho meeting Shaffer Trucking at 9.

WORLD BOOK and Bible Store, last year's runnerup in the tourney, will face Pete Amato Real Estate in tonight's finale at 10.

At stake tonight are quarter-final spots which will be contested Thursday with four more contests on tap.

Last night's action was marked by an upset when Dreamland of Martins Ferry listing some former college standouts dropped a narrow 60-59 decision to Damascus Auto Body, a team composed of former West Branch and Salem cagers.

THE BALANCED scoring paid off for the Damascus five with Meissner hitting for 14 points while three of his teammates followed in the double figures. Bill Almashy, the ex-Dayton star tallied 17 for Dreamland while Dick Reasbeck, who starred at Ohio State, netted 15.

Dreamland was rated as one of the pre-tourney favorites. Uncle Pete's, a semi-finalist last year and 1965 City League Champs battled to a 52-45 victory over a stubborn Mobley Taste - Freeze team.

TERRY FLESCH dropped in 17 while Steve Baldwin and Pick Rolley collected 12 each to pace Uncle Pete's. Call tallied 18 and Pelley 13 for the losers. Amo's Esso, a band of former Geneva College players, stopped the Sammy DiFabbio Five of Steubenville, a team which listed ex-Staubenville College players.

Amo's scored a 61-57 victory with Berhieser and Scarsella collecting 16 each in a balanced attack. Dick Quiring dropped in 26 in a losing effort. Johnny's Ashland ran up the highest score of the night with an 84-61 rout of Hyllmede Dairy. King paced Johnny's with 20 markers while Barclay netted 19 for Hyllmede.

16 Star-Studded Teams Wait Junior Tourney

The brightest school boy stars of Western Pennsylvania plus a few from Ohio will shine in Memorial Auditorium the next three days when the Blue and White Nonpareil Club will present its 18th annual Junior Basketball Tournament.

The tournament will get underway Thursday and continue Friday and Saturday with a cast of 16 teams entered.

PAIRINGS will be completed today for the tourney with six outstanding games scheduled for Thursday and Friday. The semifinals and championship game will be played Saturday.

Regulation high school games will be played throughout the tournament. The tourney may produce the fabled game that never was played in the WPIAL tournament this year — a match between Midland and Uniontown.

MIDLAND High, proclaimed one of the greatest teams that ever won a Pennsylvania state championship, will enter under the Gengarella banner and defend the title won last year in the Junior Tourney.

Uniontown will wear the colors of Riverview Florists and will bring its starting lineup to town. Last year Uniontown was upset in the opening round of the tourney and is back for revenge.

Midland will line up with All-American Sim Hill plus all-state stars Norm Vanlier and Ron Brown. Steve Alston and Brent Lake will round out Midland's starting five.

HEADING Uniontown will be all-stater Pat Yates, plus regulars Ray Parsons, 6-5, Ray Stevens, 6-3 and Charles Beckwith, 5-7.

Pennsylvania teams will dominate the tourney. Other Keystone squads include Auto Body Supply (Schenley - Peabody) with Ken Durrett and Archie McGill of Schenley plus some of the top talent in Pittsburgh.

HANK SOUTH, the 6-4 star who helped South Hills to a Pennsylvania Catholic championship, will lead the Cooperman-Woods team of Pittsburgh to the tourney. Also performing for the Pittsburgh entry will be Frank Gustine, who starred at Canevin High.

The Celtic Reds Athletic Club (Aliquippa High) may prove a strong contender. Aliquippa, from the strong Section 3

Others include: GIP'S ALL-STARS — Fifth Ave. High players, who were runnerup for the City Title in Pittsburgh led by 6-8 Greg Howard.

PROFESSIONAL MERCANTILE — (Ellwood City) members of last season's Ellwood City team, which finished runnerup to Aliquippa for the Section 3 title.

SMITH HEATING of Wellsville — (Ashtabula - Conneaut-Wickliffe) This team includes Jim Gilbert, a 6-11 standout from Ashtabula and one of the tallest players in Ohio basketball this past season, along with Joe Semak and Don Goodman both 6-4 of Conneaut.

TOHLOD INSURANCE (Boardman High) — listing Boardman High School regulars who were undefeated during the regular season and advanced to the Regional tournament finals before being eliminated by Akron Central.

HOYLE CLUB of Sharon — featuring players from the Sharon and Sharpville squads.

SEVEN MILE INN of Youngstown — with Ken Sabo, 6-8 star for Youngstown Chaney and other all-city players from that city.

ROCHESTER HIGH — with underclassmen who will be next year's Rochester High's team coached by Jim Harris, former Potter mentor.

CORNECKI A. C. of Beaver Falls — listing players from the Beaver Valley.

EAST LIVERPOOL All-Stars — consisting of high school players from Oak Glen, Wellsville and East Liverpool.

TRAFFORD HIGH — with Cliff Parsons, 6-9 star from Gateway.

Torres Gains TKO Over Pastrano; Griffith Outclasses Welter Foe

NEW YORK (AP) — Boxing's comeback boom found a new and exciting tiger today in Jose Torres, the piston puncher who hammered his way to the light-heavyweight championship — and threw down the gauntlet to Cassius Clay.

"I want Muhammad Ali," the 28-year-old Puerto Rico-born New Yorker blurted after he had given the master boxer, Willie Pastrano, an unmerciful beating and had been named winner by a technical knockout in the ninth round.

Pastrano lost his 175-pound title while sitting — bloody and battered — on his stool between the ninth and 10th rounds, a decision of mercy by referee John LoBianco.

The champion's handlers let out a loud and bitter protest but Pastrano said huskily in his dressing room: "It was a just decision. I took a terrible beating. I may never fight again."

The abrupt and controversial ending climaxed an unprecedented title doubleheader at Madison Square Garden that earlier saw Emile Griffith successfully defend his welterweight crown with a unanimous 15-round decision over the rugged but outclassed Jose Stable.

Torres weighed 171½ and Pastrano 174½. Griffith scaled 146½, one-half pound more than Stable.

A crowd of 18,112 paid $239,556 for the twin bill of fare — a record gate for the musty midtown arena — and signaled a continuing boom for the sport that once was believed on its death bed.

Most of the cheers were for Torres, a superbly built, olive-skinned athlete of 28 who had banged around the middle-weight and light-heavy ranks for a half-dozen years without a chance, and who was a 6-5 underdog against Pastrano.

Using a peek-a-boo fighting style and lashing out with a left that was like an adder's strike — and almost as deadly — he gave the classy Miami Beach fighter an awesome beating.

In the fourth and fifth rounds he brought blood with savage bolts to the head, and in the sixth he unleashed a left that sent his glove crashing into Pastrano's ribs.

Never before in 13½ years of fighting had any man knocked Pastrano to his knees.

A look of agonizing pain, and surprise, came to the champion's face as he slumped to his knees and sagged into the middle strand of the ropes. The New York Athletic Commission doctor, Dr. Harry Kleiman, rushed into the ring and looked anxiously at the fallen boxer.

Pastrano rose shakily at the count of nine and hung on. He lasted the rest of the sixth round, then three more before he wobbled to his corner at the end of the ninth.

Referee LoBianco gave the champion one look and then waved that the fight was over. Pastrano's manager, Angelo Dundee, and trainer, Lou Gross, objected strongly.

"The referee didn't even wait for the doctor to come to the ring," Dundee said. "He had no right to stop the fight."

They found no support from their fighter, Pastrano, who, almost an hour later, spoke softly through his battered features:

"It was a just decision. I just didn't have it. I fought a terrible fight and I took a real beating."

Asked if he wanted another shot at Torres, Pastrano blanched and said:

"Any man who takes a licking like I got should think twice before getting back in the ring. I may never fight again."

The referee said he made the decision on his own after Dr. Kleiman had instructed him to be careful that Pastrano didn't take too much additional punishment.

"Pastrano had nothing left, I had to stop it," the referee said. Dr. Kleiman said the referee was justified. "I was just entering the ring," he said. "I may have stopped it myself — but the referee has full control."

The victory was the 35th for Torres, son of a trucker. The former Puerto Rican has lost only one bout, a knockout at the hands of Florentino Fernandez in 1963, and he has tied one.

It was the 13th loss for Pastrano, who has won 63 and drawn eight in a career started when he was 15 years old. He is now 29.

Torres had predicted he would win by a knockout between the seventh and 10th rounds. "He was good, but I am great," he told a press conference afterward.

Griffith, making his 11th appearance in a title fight, overcame some early lethargy for his unquestioned victory over Stable, a 25-year-old New Yorker who was born in Cuba.

The champion seemed to come alive in the 10th and he won every round thereafter with a sharp, devastating attack. But he never could put Stable, who never has been knocked out, on the floor.

Northwestern Coach Talks At Southern

Roy Bates, who returned to coaching and led Northwestern High of Wayne County to an Ohio Class A basketball title last week, will be guest speaker when the Southern Local floor team is honored April 10 at the high school.

The banquet is being sponsored by the Southern Local Athletic Association and head coach Al Girone will present awards.

Bates also coached baseball at Northwestern and one of his prize pupils was Dean Chance now of the Los Angeles Angels who was the top pitcher in the American League last season.

Move By Kansas City Club To Milwaukee Is Hinted

By JIM VAN VALKENBURG
Associated Press Sports Writer
KANSAS CITY (AP) — The question of the day in Kansas City was: "Will Charles O. Finley move his mule, peacocks, bird dog, rabbits and American League baseball club to Milwaukee at the end of the 1965 season?"

The question was asked repeatedly by newsmen Tuesday after Frank Lane, Finley's one-time general manager, said he'd bet all the tea in China that Finley is "drooling at the mouth" and planning to move the A's to Milwaukee after the Braves move to Atlanta.

Finley never gave a flat yes or no answer twice, saying, "I don't wish to add any dignity to any silly, idiotic statements by Mr. Frank Lane."

He said this after an hour-long meeting with the baseball committee of the Chamber of Commerce. Earlier in the day, at a press conference which Finley had called to introduce his new mascot, Charley O., a handsome mule, the A's owner replied: "There's nothing to answer."

Prodded again, he said: "That's what makes me mad about you guys, we came out here on a nice day to show you the mule. I told you the mule would answer questions."

The trainer, at Finley's best, asked the mule the Milwaukee question eight times—for benefit of photographers. It answers were inconsistent, at best.

After the closed meeting, John Latshaw, president of the chamber, sat beside Finley and told newsmen the A's owner stated in the meeting "he has no talked to Milwaukee directly or indirectly nor has any of his representatives or theirs been in contact with him."

Finley said he had asked for the meeting with the chamber a week ago to offer help for the season ticket drive, which is lagging.

After the mule press conference, Finley told a luncheon club the A's would jump from last place to fifth this season.

Finley and the city signed a four-year contract in February, 1964 after long and bitter lease negotiations during which he attempted to move the club. Lane settled his back salary suit against Finley last year for $113,000 during a federal district court trial in Chicago.

Not Many Repeat In National Loop

By HAL BOCK
Associated Press Sports Writer
The National League Green Book, guide to the senior circuit's 10 teams, boasts on its cover that just three clubs have managed to repeat as pennant winners in the last 20 years. Let that be a warning to the world champion St. Louis Cardinals.

The Cards, who emerged from baseball's tightest pennant race ever with their first flag in 18 years last season, must rate as favorites for 1965, but five other clubs shape up as strong threats.

Philadelphia, Cincinnati and San Francisco, who, along with St. Louis, all had a shot at the pennant going into the final frantic weekend of play last year, figure to stay near the top this season. Los Angeles, with baseball's strongest pitching staff, and Milwaukee, with considerable power, also rate consideration.

Only Chicago, Pittsburgh, New York and Houston seem out of the pre-season pennant picture.

The Cards, Phillies and Reds all were active on the winter trade market.

St. Louis moved to bolster its pitching staff, picking up Tracy Stallard, a 10-game winner with the Mets last year and Bob Purkey, who won 11 for the Reds. Utility man Tito Franco, acquired from Cleveland, strengthens the bench.

Philadelphia, which missed by a whisker after leading all season long, swapped pitcher Dennis Bennett to Boston for slugger Dick Stuart, whose hitting they could have used down the stretch last year.

The Phillies also picked up Los Angeles Angel problem child Bo Belinsky and veteran pitcher Ray Herbert from the Chicago White Sox. Manager Gene Mauch needs a tightened defense, especially at third base where Rookie of the Year Richie Allen led the league in errors.

Cincinnati grabbed pitcher Roger Craig and outfielder Charlie James in the swap with St. Louis for Purkey.

San Francisco has Willie Mays, Orlando Cepeda and Juan Marichal and any club with that kind of talent should be in the race all the way.

The Giants, under new Manager Herman Franks, need comebacks from shortstop Jose Pagan and outfielder Willie McCovey as well as bullpen help.

Milwaukee has a strong young pitching staff, the best catcher in the league in Joe Torre and one of the last year's top rookies in Rico Carty, whose .330 average was second best in the league.

Los Angeles, with Sandy Koufax seemingly recovered from last year's arm trouble, has the top pitching in the league with Don Drysdale, an 18-game winner, and left-hander Claude Osteen, who won 15 for Washington last year.

Manager Walt Alton needs some hitting though.

Cards Nip Yanks, 4-3, In First Spring Game

By DICK COUCH
Associated Press Sports Writer
Ed Spiezio, one of the few St. Louis Cardinals who didn't torment the New York Yankees last October, is an accredited Yankee killer today.

Spiezio, who got into 12 games last season as a Cardinal first-year player and sat out the World Series triumph over New York, beat the Yankees 4-3 with a ninth-inning triple Tuesday in the clubs' first spring meeting.

Johnny Keane, who quit as manager of the world champions to become the Yankee field boss, watched with mixed emotions as Spiezio's 430-foot, run-scoring drive scuttled Keane's new club for the 12th time in its last 14 exhibition starts.

The game-winning hit, Spiezio's 13th in 21 spring at-bats, boosted his batting average to a dizzy .619. The 23-year-old infielder from Joliet, Ill., went 4-for-12 as a pinch hitter last year for a .333 mark.

Spiezio entered the game in the sixth inning, replacing Ken Boyer at third base after the National League's MVP was hit in the face by a drive off the bat of his brother Cletis, the Yankee third baseman.

The Chicago White Sox, considered the top threat to New York's five-year American League reign, won their fifth in a row, blanking the Dodgers 2-0 despite pitching ace Sandy Koufax's second straight route-going effort for Los Angeles.

Koufax, beaten 3-2 by Detroit last week in his first complete game, allowed four hits and struck out 10. He was touched for a run in each of the first two innings. Rookie Chicago pitchers Bruce Howard and Greg Bello stopped the Dodgers on three hits.

In other games, the Chicago Cubs downed Cleveland 12-9, Baltimore whipped Houston 5-1, San Francisco shut out Boston 6-0, Cincinnati topped Minnesota 7-3, Milwaukee clubbed Kansas City 12-5, Pittsburgh's Willie Stargell drove in six runs—four on a grand-slam homer—in the Pirates' 12-7 victory over Washington, and the Los Angeles Angels beat their Seattle farm club 5-1.

Bullets Trip Hawks, Move Into Finals

BALTIMORE (AP) — Kevin Loughery hardly deserves to be called the unsung hero of the Baltimore Bullets. Not any more.

The 6-foot-3 playmaker has been a take-charge guy in the National Basketball Association playoffs, capping his surge with 31 points and six assists Tuesday night as the Bullets whipped the St. Louis Hawks 109-103 and advanced to the Western Division finals.

Baltimore polished off St. Louis 3-1 in the best-of-5 series, after finishing eight games behind the Hawks in regular season play.

The Philadelphia 76ers have a chance to accomplish the same feat in the Eastern Division semifinals. Philadelphia finished third, eight games behind Cincinnati, but the 76ers take a 2-1 series edge into tonight's fourth game in Philadelphia.

Loughery, in his first full season as a starter, was the fifth high scorer on the Bullets with 1,024 points and he was chosen the unsung hero in a ballot conducted near the end of the season.

In the playoffs, he leads the Bullets with 16 assists and his 87 points in four games is only one less than club leader Don Ohl.

Loughery, who equaled his NBA one-game high, said, "I was really up for this game . . . sky high. I was yelling at my wife all day."

Retailers Set Event In May

Plans for a special promotion in May were outlined at a special meeting of the East Liverpool Merchants Association Tuesday morning at the Chamber of Commerce office.

Tentatively slated to run for three weeks in May, the promotion will be worked out in cooperation with the Columbiana County Motor Club office here with several awards, including a trip to Bermuda, to be offered.

The promotion is being arranged by a committee headed by Charles Averell and Max Shoff. Other members are Dayton Allen, ELMA chairman, Ralph Finley, Tom Phillips, George Shaw, Jack Shaw and Wayne Snyder.

Details of the annual outing of the merchants' group were outlined by Leslie Blumenthal and Harold Allison, co-chairmen.

The outing will be held June 2 with a buffet dinner at Webster Hall Hotel in Pittsburgh, a tour of the University of Pittsburgh's nationality rooms in the Cathedral of Learning and a ball game between the Pirates and Phillies.

Allen announced the next ELMA session will be April 20 under the new schedule calling for meetings on the third Tuesday of each month.

Probe Continues Into Motive For Slaying Of Three

WARREN, Ohio (AP) — The Trumbull County Sheriff's Department continues its investigation today into the motive for the slaying of two men and a woman.

Charles DePietro, a 56-year-old railroad inspector from Girard, was charged Tuesday with three counts of first-degree murder.

A third man, shot in the face and arms, was reported in fair condition at Trumbull Memorial Hospital.

"Right now we're unable to say why this happened," said Sheriff Robert Barnett. "The men supposedly all knew each other well."

Dead are Thomas Demeter, 44, of McDonald; Sam Cook, 52, and Mrs. Rose Maderitz, 51, both of Girard.

Wounded was James Morris, 62, of Girard.

Demeter and Cook were found Monday night near an embankment of an abandoned New York Central branch line and Mrs. Maderitz' body was found Tuesday three miles away, all in Fowler Township in eastern Trumbull County. All had been shot in the heart.

DePietro, an employee for the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad, was arrested Tuesday in a tavern in Youngstown.

Seaman Chosen For Honor Guard

Seaman Rct. Terry Lee Hensel, son of Mrs. Gladys Hayes of 5th Ave., LaCroft, has been assigned to Washington for a special tour of duty as a ceremonial guard, following completion of recruit training at the Naval Training Center at Great Lakes, Ill.

Hensel, left, is shown being congratulated by Richard L. Cothran, local recruiter, as Elmer Lee Nelson looks on. Nelson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Nelson, also of 5th Ave., LaCroft, completed basic training with Hensel. He will report for duty on the vessel Whetstone for on-the-job training as a ship-fitter. Hensel will serve with a specially - trained functional unit operating under the authority of President Johnson. The guard participates in federal functions and affairs of state such as ceremonial formations for visiting dignitaries from foreign countries.

Chester Women Set Party Friday As Cancer Benefit

The Chester Junior Women's Club has completed plans for its annual cancer card party and hat preview held Friday night at 8 o'clock at the American Legion Post assembly hall.

Mrs. James Moore, Cancer Crusade chairman in Chester, said proceeds will go to the American Cancer Society.

Committee chairmen for the affair, named by Mrs. Moore, include: Miss Sandee Aken, tickets; Mrs. Clayton Hobbs Jr. and Mrs. Richard Stanley, tables.

Mrs. A. Thayer Allison and Mrs. Richard Pillo, tallies; Mrs. Jerry Allison, Mrs. William Allison and Mrs. Thomas Hindes, posters; Mrs. Harold R. Ossman and Mrs. Harry Com m. head table.

Mrs. James Shaw and Mrs. Ronald Gibbs, kitchen, and Mrs. Moore, refreshments.

The group will sponsor a Hat-a-Rama at the Legion hall Saturday from 10 to 4 o'clock with various styles of spring hats for display and sale. Proceeds will go to the Cancer Crusade.

Last year, the Women's Club won first place in statewide competition for outstanding work in the cancer solicitation, raising $1,225.55 in the community.

With hopes of bettering the mark this year, it has planned, besides the card party and Hat-a-Rama, a road block, door-to-door solicitation, letters to business concerns and a teen-age dance.

Mrs. David N. Thoman, unit president for both Hancock and Brooke Counties, will be guest speaker at a public meeting Monday night at 8 at the American Legion, Mrs. Moore said.

Harry Andrus Heads East Palestine Rotary

EAST PALESTINE — J. Harry Andrus, city postmaster and former East Liverpool resident, was elected president of Rotary Club Monday, succeeding Eugene Rhodes.

Others elected were Harold Brittain, vice president; Ray Humphrey, secretary, and Howard Hunter, treasurer.

Directors named were Arthur Hill, Kersey McCloskey, Richard Murray and Glen Ward.

Program Marks Anniversary Of Wellsville Group

Sixty - five attended a ceremony marking the 8th anniversary of the auxiliary of Wellsville Eagles Lodge 772 Sunday afternoon at the aerie home. Three hundred attended the dinner following.

Mrs. Frances Vanis of Geneva, state secretary and grand vice president, was guest speaker.

Other state officers attending were Mrs. Veronica Williams of Youngstown, past chaplain; Mrs. Gertrude Yeager of Salem, treasurer, and Mrs. Ruth Bergenthal of Bridgeport, past junior president.

The Struthers ritual team initiated three candidates. Gifts and corsages were presented state officers and members of the degree team.

Mrs. Elsie Deidrick, president, was crowned anniversary queen by Mrs. Vanis.

Plans Advanced On Rhodes' Visit For JC Meeting

Plans for a visitation by Gov. James A. Rhodes were furthered at a meeting of the Junior Chamber of Commerce committee in charge of arrangements Tuesday night.

The governor has accepted an invitation to speak to the Jaycees April 26 at the Country Night, the event will be similar to the annual Bosses Night of the Jaycees.

A cocktail hour will be held from 5:30 to 6:30. A roast beef dinner will be served at 6:30. Atty. Charles Lang is in charge of arrangements for the club.

Some 125 to 150 are expected to attend. Jaycee members will be allowed to take guests. Tickets are $5 each.

Those attending must have a reservation. Each member will be called and asked to make reservations. Those who do will be sent an engraved invitation to be used to gain admittance. The money will be collected at the door.

The committee includes Paul Zehnder, chairman, Atty. Lang, Robert Lewis and Harry Stewart.

Nearly 185,000 Americans will be saved from death from cancer this year. The American Cancer Society says that most of them will be saved because their cancers were detected early and treated promptly.

Mayor Receives Emblems

Veterans Present 5 Flags To City

A delegation from the Veterans City Council Tuesday afternoon presented Mayor Merrill Hall five new American flags.

James Cregar, president, said one of the flags will be flown at City Hall, while the others will be used at the four fire stations.

Mayor Hall is shown receiving one of the flags from Cregar in a City Hall ceremony. Mrs. Mary Wines, representing the Navy Mothers, is on the left, and Mrs. Anna Carr of the Gold Star Mothers is on the right.

Chester Club Contributes $100 For Scholars' Fund

A donation of $100 was made by the Chester Women's Club to the Citizens Scholarship Foundation at a meeting Monday afternoon in the Chester First Methodist Church.

Mrs. Michael Turk of East Liverpool, president of the Scholarship Foundation, outlined work of the organization.

The following members of the club will solicit business places in Chester for the Scholarship Foundation: Mrs. Eugene Seeley, Mrs. Walter Jordan, Mrs. Alvin Arner Jr. and Mrs. William Werkeiser.

A donation of $10 was authorized for the post - prom party of Oak Glen High School. The Club Collect and pledge to the flag were repeated in unison. Devotions were led by Mrs. Walter Jordan.

A book review, "Not Under Oath" (John Kiernan), was presented by Mrs. J. B. Porter.

Mrs. Seeley, president, gave a report on the annual convention of the West Virginia Federation of Women's Clubs held Thursday through Saturday at White Sulphur Springs.

Mrs. Ina Birkhimer, who also attended the convention, added comment.

It was announced that the annual spring luncheon of the club will be held Wednesday, April 28, at 1 o'clock at the East Liverpool Country Club.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. C. W. Ewing and Mrs. Werkeiser.

The next meeting will be held April 12 at 2 o'clock with Mrs. Robert E. Boyce of Laurel Farms, near Chester.

Clinic Scheduled At Edison School

A pre - school clinic for children planning to enter kindergarten or first grade in September in the Empire, Stratton and Port Homer areas will be held at the Edison Elementary School Tuesday from 9:30 to 11 a. m.

The clinic will be conducted by the Jefferson County Health Department.

Physical examinations and the required pre - school immunizations will be available, according to Supt. C. P. Henderson of the Stanton Local schools.

Each child should be accompanied by at least one parent and must have a birth certificate and any record of previous immunizations, he said.

might be permanently closed to traffic.

An "elaborate closing of the barn door, one day too late," said one security officer.

There was bitterness in some circles over the failure to take extraordinary security precautions earlier in view of detailed intelligence reports telling how the Viet Cong planned to blast the embassy.

Police sources said the plan had been known to both Vietnamese and American authorities for three weeks.

Current intelligence reports said Viet Cong terrorist squads have been assigned to blast the U.S. Information Service building and a four-building bachelor officers quarters in Cholon, the Chinese section of Saigon.

Police sources said police patrols in the threatened areas have been intensified and intelligence agents are working to uncover the plotters.

A police spokesman said, however, that street traffic would not be blocked in the areas.

No more additional guards had been placed at the U.S.I.S. building or the Boq complex, he said.

U.S. Embassy spokesman Barry Zorthian said units from a 400-man U.S. Army military police detachment which recently landed in Saigon would be used to give additional protection to the embassy.

Zorthian said precautions had been increased before the bombing and that police activity around the embassy had been stepped up.

The building's position flush with the busy street made it vulnerable to attack.

In Washington, President Johnson announced he would ask Congress for authority and funds to build a new embassy.

Swift congressional compliance was expected. A new building had been proposed for about three years, partly because of the security problem at the present site.

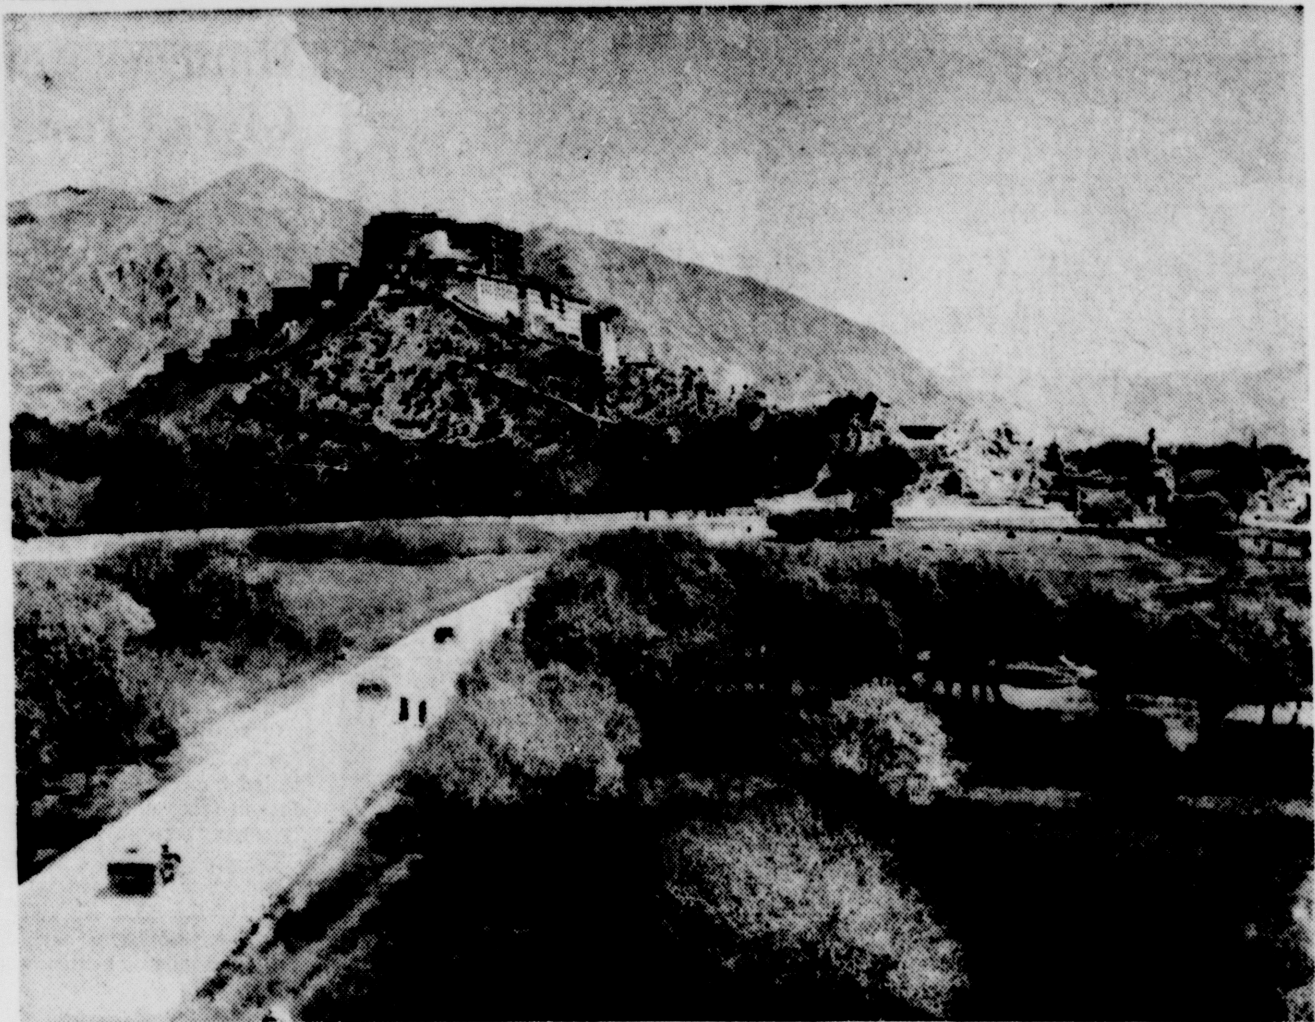

Inside the embassy, acting Ambassador U. Alexis Johnson was back at his desk on the top floor. He received facial cuts in the explosion.

A spokesman said all offices were operating except the consular section. With offices on the ground floor, it bore the brunt of the blast and only one American, Vice Consul Thomas Wilson, 37, of Sault Ste. Marie, Mich., was able to work today.

Workmen cleaned debris from inside and around the building. Plywood sheets were fitted into the windows, whose glass panes were turned into thousands of sharp projectiles by the explosion.

Some of those able to return to work were sent to the U.S. Information Service building or other U.S. government facilities.

carried out the bombing was wounded and was captured. He was undergoing intensive questioning. Police sources said he undoubtedly would be executed publicly after he was wrung dry of information.

The terrorist who drove the car loaded with explosives was killed in the explosion.

A government-organized demonstration to protest the bombing brought out only about 500 Vietnamese. Most were students and city hall workers ordered to take part.

Communist China said the bombing had made President Johnson dejected and crestfallen.

"Heartening news to revolutionary people throughout the world while big and small chiefs in Washington are panic-stricken," said the official Peking People's Daily in an editorial.

the power to initiate investigations.

Democrats complained the compromise bill is too weak and vowed to try to amend it on the floor to restore provisions of the more inclusive bill sponsored by King.

But fair housing is a plank in the state Democratic platform and even if the bill is unchanged it is expected to win strong Democratic support. With the senate split politically, 16-16, this could mean only one GOP vote would be needed to send it to the house.

Sens. Robin Turner, R-Seneca, and Richard Metcalf, R-Franklin, voted against the bill in committee. Voting for it were Whalen, Jones and Sens. Robert C. Blackburn, D-Montgomery, Edmund A. Sargus, D-Belmont, and Charles Pancake, D-Athens.

Blackburn and Pancake were co-sponsors of the King bill. They and Sargus attempted unsuccessfully to amend the compromise bill in committee and said they will try again when it reaches the floor.

Sargus was especially critical of the compromise bill, calling it "a subterfuge."

"It's called fair housing," he said. "But at best it should be called a fair commercial property bill. It holds out a promise to the people but this bill doesn't live up to the promise. 'I think with this bill we are derelict in our duty to our fellow man,' Sargus said. 'I think the compromise here has gone too far.'" iterated his office always is open to Alabamians, regardless of race, creed, color, or national origin.

There were these other developments on the racial scene: Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. told a New York news conference that despite some criticism he believes his proposal for an economic boycott of Alabama is necessary. But, he said, details had not been worked out and he "merely suggested it as a last-resort method."

More than 750 persons attended funeral services for Mrs. Liuzzo in Detroit.

President Johnson's voting-rights bill was attacked by Leander H. Perez, political chieftain of Plaquemines Parish, La. Perez told the Senate Judiciary Committee "a Communist plan" to take over portions of the South with Negro votes was behind the legislation.

Also in Washington, the House Committee on Un-American Activities voted unanimously to investigate the Ku Klux Klan. The President assailed the hooded order after the arrest of four klansmen in connection with Mrs. Liuzzo's slaying last Thursday night.

E.L. McDaniel, grand dragon of the Mississippi United Klans of America, said he welcomed an investigation of the KKK.

The civil rights leaders who called for a temporary halt in demonstrations and mass meetings at Selma were the Rev. James Bevel, an aide to King, and Reese, president of the Dallas County Voters League.

Both indicated there would be no further demonstrations before Saturday. They suggested the time usually spent at mass meetings be used to interest Negroes in registering to vote on Monday.

ion, the community college is better than a university extension because it is locally - controlled, offers better guidance, provides better equipment and courses are more easily revised within the curriculum.

He said Columbiana County can obtain a community college if leaders agree on a program and "present a united front in seeking state approval and assistance."

Questioned about construction, he said the state would provide 75 per cent of funds for buildings if the local district provides 25 per cent.

A survey would be required to determine the college needs, and could be undertaken by a specialized educator for about $5,000.

ment insurgents since American warplanes began a series of bombing raids against North Viet Nam Feb. 7. The 14th attack was staged Tuesday.

The explosion at the embassy punched a gaping hole in the building, shattered every window and left an enormous crater in the street.

The embassy was to have been replaced eventually because of its closeness to the street and lack of a fire escape. Rep. Clemente J. Zablocki, D-Wis., who led a congressional investigation in South Viet Nam in 1963, said:

"We as members of Congress noted that the facilities were bad from the security point of view. The new quarters will be approved by the Congress, I am sure."

Zablocki, chairman of the House Foreign Affairs Committee's Far East subcommittee said, "In order to further demonstrate our intentions it would not be out of order to bomb industrial complexes in or near Hanoi."

He also said he does not favor the bombing of nonmilitary targets.

Johnson, in his statement, extended sympathy to the families of those killed in the attack. Twenty persons, two American, are known dead. About 175 were wounded.

Gloating over the embassy attack, Red China called the terrorism "heartening news to the revolutionary people throughout the world while the big and small chieftains in Washington are panic-stricken."

Bloodmobile Gets 105 Pints In Lisbon Visit

LISBON — Only 105 points of blood — 20 short of the goal — were donated Wednesday by area donors at the semi-annual visit of the Red Cross Bloodmobile from Cleveland at the First Methodist Church.

There were "quite a few" rejects — persons taking medicine or for other reasons and 65 failed to show, with only 10 calling to explain, officials said.

The blood is used at the Salem City Hospital and the Salem Central Clinic. Persons needing blood can get it free, except for a fee for administering it.

The next visit in Lisbon will be in approximately six months, Mrs. Ruth Kauffman, co-ordinator, said.

Dirksen Among Those In Forefront

GOP Takes Lead In Bid To Widen Voting Rights

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congressional Republicans are taking the lead in attempting to broaden the impact of the pending voting-rights bill.

Although Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen told a news conference Tuesday that efforts to speed the bill through Congress are bipartisan, he and other GOP members are in the forefront of those seeking broader coverage.

As it now is drawn, the measure aimed at eliminating racial discrimination in voting would affect Alabama, Alaska, Louisiana, Georgia, Mississippi, South Carolina and Virginia, plus 34 counties in North Carolina and one county each in Maine, Idaho and Arizona.

This is because the bill's provision for appointment of federal registrars would be triggered automatically in states and counties where less than half the adult population was registered or voted last November.

Dirksen rejected a suggestion by Leander H. Perez, Plaquemines Parish, La., before the Judiciary Committee that "it is not by coincidence" that some of the Southern states affected by the bill "registered a large vote" against President Johnson last year.

GOP presidential nominee Barry Goldwater carried Louisiana, Alabama, Georgia, Mississippi, South Carolina and Arizona in an election in which party officials figured 96 per cent of the Negro vote went against him on a national basis.

Dirksen, who drafted the bill in cooperation with Atty. Gen. Nicholas Katzenbach, said, "There was never a word in that field — partisanship didn't enter into consideration of this measure."

Despite this disclaimer, Dirksen has overshadowed any Democrat in his efforts to get enacted legislation which would give the Negroes the right to vote that they have demonstrated for in Alabama.

It was Dirksen who forced Perez to back down on his charge that the voting-rights bill would give impetus to the Communist plan to infiltrate the South's Negro belt.

The Illinois senator said this was "about as stupid a statement as has been uttered in these hearings." He said it reflected on attorneys and others who had drafted the bill. He demanded that Perez take it out of the record. Perez did.

Biggest 1965 Payday Set At Weirton Steel

Production, maintenance and salaried employees of the Weirton Steel Co. will have their biggest pay period of the year between March 31 and April 7 when they receive $11,059,686 including a record vacation pay of $6,297,650 on April 7 for production and maintenance employees, it was announced today by C. G. Tournay, president.

Considered the highest in the steel industry, the vacation pay provisions are covered in the labor agreement between Weirton Steel and the Independent Steelworkers Union.

Vacation pay is based on a 48-hour week under the agreement, with the scale of credits applied to determine the amount of vacation pay ranging from 48 hours for one year to 188 hours for 25 or more years.

The contract provides an individual vacation pay rate based on the employee's highest pay period average earnings per hour in the "vacation rate computation period." This is the period beginning with the first pay period ending after July 1 of the year prior to the vacation year, to and including the first pay period ending on or after Jan. 1 of the calendar year in which the vacation payment is made.

The vacation rate computation period contains five of the seven recognized paid holidays, giving the possibility of higher vacation earnings.

Oak Glen's Team To Join In State Debating Contest

Oak Glen High School's debating team, comprised of Phyllis Murray and Lois Rice, victors in Region I of the West Virginia Forensic League, will participate in state competition Thursday through Saturday at West Virginia University.

Oak Glen received a "superior" rating in the regional event at West Liberty State College March 13. The question was: "Resolved: That nuclear weapons should be controlled by an international organization."

Eight regional winners will compete in the schedule at Morgantown on the same question. Competition at the university is under the direction of Dr. Lloyd W. Welden of the university faculty and executive secretary of the West Virginia Interscholastic League.

Shirley Parsons is alternate of the team and Charles W. Morris, of the Oak Glen faculty is the debate coach.

Ferro Forecast Sees Good Year

Ferro Corp., which operates the Louthan Plant and Porelain Division in East Liverpool, expects a bright 1965 from the standpoint of sales and earnings. H. T. Marks, president, and G. E. Weber, financial vice president, reported at the annual shareholders meeting today in Cleveland.

The forecast calls for 1965 sales of over $98 million and earnings of $4,200,000, or $2.40 per share, against $2.18 per share in 1964.

In reporting on last year, Weber said all divisions contributed to record sales of $91 million. Net dollar earnings of $3,750,000 also were at an all-time high, he said.

Clifford M. Andrews, vice president of international operations, was elected to the firm's Board of Directors at the meeting today.

Sales Representative Named By Ohio Power

Peter J. Todd, a distribution planner for the Ohio Power Co. at Steubenville, has been transferred to the company's office here as commercial sales representative.

He succeeds Donald B. Baxter, who recently assumed his duties in the company's Division 6 at Portsmouth.

Todd was born in Motherwell, Lanarkshire, Scotland, on Jan. 28, 1918, and was graduated from high school at Motherwell. He studied electrical engineering at the Coatbridge Technical College, Coatbridge, Scotland, for two years.

From 1935 to 1951 he worked for General Electric Co. Ltd. in Scotland in the industrial heating field.

During World War II, he served in the Royal Corps of Signals from 1940 to 1945 and saw duty in Egypt, Libya, Syria, Iraq, Persia, India, Belgium, Holland and Germany.

He moved to the United States in January 1952 and joined Ohio Power at Steubenville five months later as an engineer's assistant in the distribution section. He became a dis-

Crews In Chile Start Cleaning Quake Debris

SANTIAGO, Chile, (AP) — Earthquakes are part of the way of life in Chile, and the Chileans know what to do after a quake strikes. Today they are doing it with a vengeance.

Newsmen who flew Tuesday over the areas hit hardest by Sunday's quake saw work crews swarming over roofs, walls, bridges and roads, clearing away debris and starting repairs and reconstruction.

The exception was in El Cobre, the mining town of 400 persons wiped out by a dam break triggered by the quake.

In El Cobre there was nothing to rebuild or repair.

There, grimy work crews continued to dig into a 5-mile-long mass of earth, trying to reach the wreckage of the miners' houses and to bring out the dead.

By Tuesday night 45 bodies had been recovered. More than 300 were believed still buried.

The armed services set up tents, field hospitals and field kitchens in disaster areas to serve the injured or homeless.

The tents and equipment were donated by the United States after earthquakes and a tidal wave smashed much of southern Chile in 1960.

The Chileans stockpiled them on the assumption they would be needed again. The quake which struck Sunday was the third disastrous earthquake within the lifetime of some adult Chileans. The first was in 1939.

Between Llay-Llay and San Felipe, repair crews dug into a massive landslide covering the main highway between Chile and Argentina.

In Santiago, a city of two million, most of the debris that fell from walls and roofs had been cleared away.

In El Cobre, the handful of people who survived the landslide were not talking of reconstruction. Some sat silently as soldiers, national police and volunteers dug into the mass of drying mud and wreckage.

Occasionally a group broke into wails as a body was brought out and identified.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The National Association for the Advancement of Colored People plans to appeal the dismissal in federal court of a suit seeking reduction of congressional representation in states which deny Negroes the right to vote.

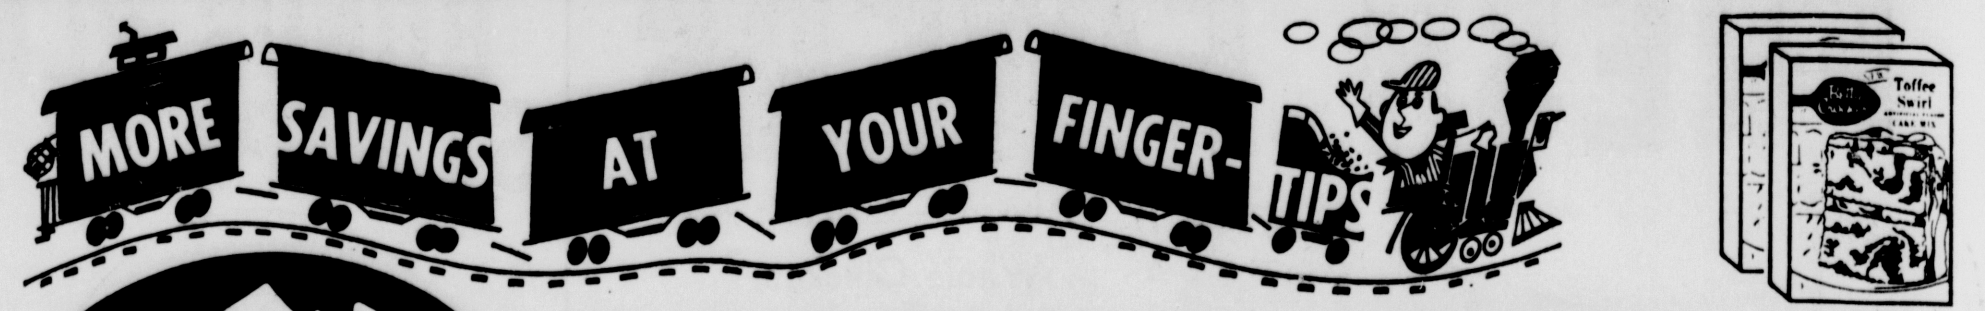

U.S. Dist. Judge William B. Jones, who heard the suit two months ago, threw it out Tuesday.

He upheld a motion by the government that it be dismissed on grounds the plaintiffs — 22 citizens of both Northern and Southern states — had no standing before the court to file such a suit.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Court-martial charges of theft, conspiracy to steal and false claims have been brought against Col. George S. Howard, chief of the Air Force Band for two decades before the court to file such a suit.

Award Given To Cub Scout Newspapers Invert Strike

A highlight of the meeting of Cub Scout Pack 12 of the Trinity United Presbyterian Church Tuesday night at the church was the presentation of the Webelos pin and patch to Frank Hilliard, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank R. Hilliard of Ogden St.

He presented his mother the miniature mother's Webelos pin. A candlelight ceremony was featured when Frank was inducted into Boy Scout Troop 12. Participating in the ceremony were Allan Sims Jr., assistant scoutmaster; Bruce Craft and Bill Williams, patrol leaders; John Hales, quartermaster; and Dean Galas, assistant patrol leader.

One of the candles used in the ceremony was used by scouts at the 1964 National Jamboree at Valley Forge, Pa. last July.

Awards went to Scott Calhoun, Steve Wisniewski, Steven Sloan, Frank Hilliard, David Wilson and Gary Skeens. Audie White was accepted as a new member of Den 7 and was awarded the Bobcat pin.

Service pins were presented to Mrs. Irma Locke, eight years, and Bob Heacock, Pat Heacock, Carrie Galas, Mark Hill, Andy Parkes, Bobby Brown and Frank Hilliard, three years.

Cub Scout uniform inspection for renewal of the charter was held by scout officials of the Columbiana County Council — Colin Brown, Fred Johnson and Wayne Wilson. Sam Parkes, cubmaster, presided.

A cowboy skit was presented by members of Den 1, under the direction of Mrs. Doris Calhoun and Mrs. Pat Sloan. The pledge of allegiance was led by Den 2.

Refreshments were served by mothers of Den 6 led by Mrs. Ruth Parkes and Mrs. Gladys Skeens. The next planning meeting will be held Monday night at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Heacock of Lincoln Ave.

Proceeding of the Courts

Common Pleas

O'Conner Steel Co. vs. Robert R. Hickey. Judgment by confession on cognovit note for plaintiff for $4,831.58 and costs.

Fleet Operators Now Eye April 15 For Ore Shipping

CLEVELAND (AP) — Fleet operators who had hoped to get their ore boats running in the Great Lakes next week are wondering now whether they'll make it before April 15.

Harold N. Burke, chief U.S. Weatherman in Cleveland, reported Tuesday that temperatures in the upper lakes have averaged 20 to 25 degrees below normal over the last week.

The cold weather has resulted in a time when old ice should be deteriorating, the Ice Committee of the Lake Carriers' Association was told.

A Coast Guard spokesman said windrows on Whitefish Bay are 20 to 30 feet high and 200 to 300 feet wide in some places.

Lake Superior, which has most of the loading docks for ore boats, has almost 100 per cent surface ice, the Coast Guard said.

Burke said temperatures in the lakes region in the near future should moderate, but don't expect a heat wave.

Robinson, father of three daughters, was to receive the award today from Robert McKell, association president and president of the Chillicothe Telephone Co.

Other awards at the luncheon included special citations to the Lorain Telephone Co., Elyria Telephone Co., Ashland Telephone Co. and Home Telephone Co. of Middlefield for low percentage accident frequencies per number of man hours worked.

Dayton Due $800,000 To Expand Runway

DAYTON, Ohio (AP) — Mayor Frank S. Senger says the Federal Aviation Agency will grant Dayton a disputed $800,000 to extend the north-south runway at Cox Municipal Airport.

The status of the city's request for funds had been in doubt since a Dayton civil rights group, the Non-Violent Direct Action Committee, sent a delegation of 30 persons to Washington to picket the FAA, urging that the funds not be granted. The group said there was racial discrimination in employment in Dayton's city government.

Also seen as a possible deterrent to the federal grant was a proposed Southwest Ohio regional airport, which would be built between Dayton and Cincinnati.

Glass Display Slated

The fifth display of the Ohio Development Department in the Statehouse rotunda will feature products of Ohio's glass manufacturers and will run from April 5 through April 16, it was announced today. It is one of a series in the "Ohio First" program honoring Ohio manufacturers who produce items in which Ohio leads the world.

At Rotary Club Meeting

Clark Hinkle, Grid Great
Tells Of Colorful Career

Clark Hinkle of Toronto, a member of the Professional Football Hall of Fame at Canton, was guest speaker at a noon luncheon meeting of the Rotary Club Tuesday at the Travelers Hotel.

Hinkle, an All-American fullback at Bucknell University, played for 10 years as a member of the Green Bay Packers and held numerous running records until a fellow by the name of Jim Brown came along.

He called the Cleveland Browns fullback "probably the greatest runner the National Football League has ever seen but one of the most miserable blockers I have ever seen."

In discussing modern players and those of the days of Thorpe, Nagurski and Hudson, he said to compare the two eras is impossible — "it is like comparing an apple with an orange."

"In the old days you had 60-minute football players; today you have 30-minute specialists — some for offense and others for defense," Hinkle said.

Hinkle said whenever he is asked how long he played professional ball, he says, "20 years. . . 10 on offense and 10 on defense."

Hinkle said "the players today may be a little larger, but when I played the ball players had about 500 pounds of heart."

"Back then, they played because they loved the game, not because of fabulous salaries."

He told how he signed to play with the Packers and Coach Curley Lambo back in 1932 following graduation from college for $125 per game.

Hinkle spoke of several men he played with or against during his fabulous career, and heaped special praise on the Chicago Bears back, Bronco Nagurski.

He related how in his first professional football game and on his first carry from the line of scrimmage, he was "clobbered" by Nagurski, and was carried off "for seven stitches in the head."

Hinkle said from that time on he never stood still on a football field — "if they wanted me, they had to chase me."

Hinkle called his installation into the Hall of Fame the greatest thrill in his life.

"It gave me a feeling that I just can't explain," he said. He related how Gov. James Rhodes told him that he had been a fan of his for a number of years. Using gestures, he said: "That made my chest swell out this far."

He spoke of one instance which he said will never allow him to get a big head because of the honors that have been bestowed upon him.

Hinkle said he was talking with a receptionist one day and when she asked him what he used to do, he told her he "used to be with the Packers." Her response, he said, was: "What kind of meat did they pack?"

He said he was very thankful for football, and the things it has given him. "If I had it to do over, I would do everything the same way."

William Barker was program chairman. Alvin Babb, president, presided.

The newly - formed Central African Republic, landlocked in equatorial Africa, covers an area of 238,000 square miles, somewhat smaller than Texas. Population: 1,200,000.

Bif Big Assist From FBI

Extensive Probe Aimed At KKK's Secrecy Cloak

WASHINGTON (AP) — An extensive congressional investigation aimed at ripping the white cloaks of secrecy from the Ku Klux Klan was under way today, presumably with a big assist from the FBI.

The formal investigation was launched immediately after the House Committee on Un-American Activities voted unanimously Tuesday that a probe was needed.

Committee Chairman Edwin E. Willis, D-La., and Rep. Charles L. Weltner, D-Ga., the committee member who originally demanded the investigation, estimated it would take several weeks of spadework before hearings.

"It's going to require intensive and extensive investigation to prepare for the hearings," said one source.

"We want to know who they are; how many there are; where they are; what's their objectives; what's their allegiance."

At Natchez, Miss., E. L. McDaniel, grand dragon of the Mississippi Realm of the United Klans of America, said he "welcomed an investigation of the KKK." He said he hoped Willis "has not formed an opinion before investigating the truth."

President Johnson, in suggesting congressional investigations of the Klan, promised help from the FBI, Justice Department and other government agencies.

The committee already has approached the Justice Department and a committee source said the length of the investigation may depend on how much help the Justice Department, the FBI and other agencies may be able to give.

Thus, while the President was getting in short order the investigation he asked for, the Justice Department was facing up to the difficulties of coming up with legislation he requested to control Klan activities.

Atty. Gen. Nicholas Katzenbach told some Negro students about it Tuesday: "it's difficult to get any meaningful legislation against the organization. It would be better if we could make it easier for the federal government to prosecute individuals for specific crimes, possibly with heavier penalties than we now have. But we haven't made any decision yet."

Katzenbach and his top aides are said to be wary of any law that would attempt to make Klan membership a crime or to require klansmen to register with the government and disclose their activities.

They know by experience the difficulties in enforcing the Internal Security Act of 1950, aimed at forcing disclosure of Communist party membership and finances.

The Committee on Un-American Activities may draft legislation itself, based on its hearings, or recommend that another committee, such as Judiciary, do it.

Samuel, Browns' TV,
Radio Director, Quits

CLEVELAND (AP) — Marsh Samuel, who had been with the Cleveland Browns four years, announced his resignation Tuesday as the club's director of radio and television.

Samuel was public relations director for the Cleveland Indians from 1947-52.

Tickets are available from band members and also will be sold at the door.

Dressen Will Leave

Hospital On Thursday

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (AP) — Charley Dressen, manager of the Detroit Tigers, will be released from a hospital Thursday, a spokesman said Tuesday night.

The 66-year-old Dressen, who has been hospitalized with a heart attack since March 8, was reported in "good shape" and "right on schedule" on his way to recovery.

Brundage 'Pleased'

With Mexico's Plans

MEXICO CITY (AP) — Avery Brundage, president of the International Olympic Committee, flew back to Chicago Tuesday, after a one day visit here.

Brundage talked with President Gustavo Diaz Ordaz about Mexico's preparations for the 1968 Olympic games here and said he was "highly pleased" from what he saw in his short visit.

Deaths and Funerals

Cleo L. Lewis Claimed At 83

Cleo L. Lewis, 1037 Peake St., a retired engineer for the Pennsylvania Railroad Co., died this morning at 2:50 at City Hospital after a brief illness. He was 83.

Mr. Lewis was born Jan. 24, 1882, to Elvaston, Ill., to the late David Lewis and Allie Miller Lewis. He retired in 1949. He attended the First Church of the Nazarene.

He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Charlotte Lewis, at home; two daughters, Mrs. James (Margaret) Yaker of East Liverpool and Mrs. Robert C. (Wilma) Trainer of Tampa, Fla.; a son, Charles L. Lewis of Knoxville, Tenn.; a sister, Mrs. Ruby Egley of Alexandria, Mo., eight grandchildren and five great-grandchildren.

Services will be held Friday at 1 p. m. at the East Liverpool Arner Home for Funerals by the Rev. Clyde G. Schlosser. Burial will be in Columbiana County Memorial Park.

Friends may call at the funeral home tonight and Thursday.

Mrs. Katherine Koch

Services for Mrs. Katherine McKeevich Koch of Denver, Colo., widow of Frederick A. Koch and a former resident here, were held March 23 at St. John the Evangelist Church at Denver. Burial was at Denver.

Mrs. Koch died March 19 at her home after a long illness. The Kochs operated a dry goods store here before moving to Denver in 1906. Mrs. Koch was active in musical circles here.

She leaves a daughter, Mrs. Herman (Geraldine) Seep of Denver, a granddaughter, and nephews and nieces.

Mrs. Ada Campbell

Services for Mrs. Ada Hague Campbell of Los Angeles, a former resident here, will be held Friday at 2 p. m. at the Dawson Funeral Home.

The Rev. Robert H. Schondelmayer of the First Christian Church of Chester will officiate. Burial will be in Locust Hill Cemetery in Chester.

Mrs. Campbell died Saturday in Los Angeles after a long illness.

Friends may call at the funeral home Thursday.

Mrs. Bertha Haffner

Mrs. Bertha V. Haffner, 344 Lisbon St., Wellsville, widow of Charles D. Haffner, died Tuesday at 1:30 p. m. at Osteopathic Hospital, where she had been a patient since Monday night. She had been in failing health for several years. She was 77.

Mrs. Haffner was born in Germano, Ohio, Oct. 8, 1887, to the late Joseph H. Wilson and Nettie Heckert Wilson and lived in the Wellsville area 72 years. Her husband died April 8, 1949. She leaves a son, Albert E. Blackburn, a brother, Alvie Wilson, and a nephew, Eddie Wilson, all at the home, and other nephews and several nieces.

Services will be held Friday at 1:30 p. m. at the MacLean Funeral Home in Wellsville by the Rev. Arden R. Beck, pastor of the Wellsville First Methodist Church. Burial will be in Springhill Cemetery in Wellsville.

Friends may call at the funeral home tonight and Thursday afternoon and evening.

Pughtown PTA Plans To Honor Instructors

Plans for discussion of projects at a meeting of the Pughtown Parent-Teacher Association Monday night at 8 at the school were aired at a meeting of the Executive Board Tuesday afternoon.

Fourteen attended the session, at which Mrs. Robert Golden, president, reported the total membership at 111. She said 18 PTA magazines have been sold and 11 bulletins.

Teachers will be honored at Monday's meeting, when a talk and film on the New York World's Fair will be presented by the Chesapeake & Potomac Telephone Co.

3 Chosen For Posts By Sheep Producers

LISBON — Sixty-five attended the annual Tri-County Sheep banquet Tuesday night at the Stillfork Grange Hall, south of Augusta in Carroll County.

Three committeemen were elected — Homer Royer, Columbiana R. D. 2, for Columbiana County; Ray Flickenger, Beloit R. D. 1, for Mahoning; and Richard Rutledge, Carrollton R. D. 3, for Carroll.

John Raley of Signal, president, conducted business. It was reported that a total of 4,323 sheep were dipped last year in the three counties — 2,260 in Carroll, 1,065 in Mahoning and 998 in Columbiana, sponsored by the Tri-County Sheep Committee.

Back Cabinet 'Voice' Plan, Mayors Told

WASHINGTON (AP) — Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey urged the nation's mayors and other city officials today to throw their support behind the proposal to give cities a voice in the President's Cabinet.

America's ever-growing cities are facing a "time of great decision," and need such a voice, he said, in a speech prepared for a legislative conference of the National League of Cities.

As he spoke, hearings were under way in the Senate on an administration-backed bill which would create a new department of housing and urban development. This would be done by raising the status of the existing Federal Housing and Home Finance Agency.

"Almost every group in this country has a voice at the Cabinet level in this government; but not the city," Humphrey said. "That is wrong. I ask you to exert your influence in support of this bill."

Humphrey pointed up the problems confronting the cities, mainly a result of burgeoning growth. He said the suburbs must swell to absorb another 30 million people in the next 10 years.

The growth rate has forced state and local governments to go heavily into debt — more than doubling in 10 years — to pay for services and facilities, the vice president said.

"But we still have over nine million homes that are run down or deteriorating," he said. "And we have more than four million homes without running water or plumbing."

Forces of growth and decay are converging on cities, Humphrey declared, and require not only building but better education, higher incomes and a lifting of "oppression" used "to deny some of our citizens their rights."

"American cities today are at a time of great decision," Humphrey asserted. "We can be crushed by their unchanneled vitality if we do not impose civilizing controls."

Army Alerted In Thailand After Blast

BANGKOK, Thailand (AP) — Thailand's army and security forces were put on alert today following the bombing of the U.S. Embassy in Saigon and a rebellion by rightist troops in neighboring Laos.

Premier Thanom Kittikachorn said he feared terrorist acts, similar to the Saigon embassy bombing, would be staged in Bangkok. American sources privately have expressed similar fears.

A military source said a radio message intercepted from a Communist insurgent in northeast Thailand named bases in Korat and Talki and the Capital Hotel in Bangkok as possible targets.

A large number of U.S. servicemen and planes are at the two bases and the Capital Hotel houses several hundred military men. There are about 6,000 U.S. servicemen in Thailand.

The premier said Communist infiltration of Thailand was being stepped up and the Communists were distributing propaganda leaflets in the northeast provinces. Radio Peking is daily accusing the government of having sold out to the United States.

Some Sap Is Good Business For Akron

AKRON, Ohio (AP) — Some sap is good business for the city of Akron.

The City Council authorized purchase of a $1,575 maple syrup evaporator after Public Utilities Manager William Wasick reported it would be profitable to replace the old unit used to make syrup from sap of maple trees at a city reservoir.

Reservoir employees make the syrup at times when other duties don't keep them busy, he said, and the city gets $4,000 to $5,000 a year from selling syrup. That, he said, "more than pays the salaries of these men for the time they're making syrup."

Many fishes sleep, with their eyes open since fish lack eyelids. They sleep lying down, erect on the bottom, buried to the snout in and or suspended in water.

Peach State Produces Finest Of Marble Too

ATLANTA (AP) — What comes from Georgia? Peaches, certainly. But the Peach State can also claim to have produced some of the nation's finest marble.

Marble from northwest Georgia was used in building the Lincoln Memorial in Washington. Georgia marble also was used for state capitols in Rhode Island, Minnesota, Kentucky and Arkansas.

And Georgia produced what is believed to be the largest block of marble ever quarried — a 76-ton block that is part of the Buckingham Fountain in Chicago.

At L'Anse au Meadow, Newfoundland, Norwegian archeologist Anne Stine Ingstad uncovered the first Viking household object ever found in America.

Police Dog 'Arrested' As Purse Snatcher

ALTON, Ill. (AP) — A purse-snatching German police dog was caught and taken into custody by police after the victim flagged a patrol car.

The dog almost got away with the "crime" when Police Cpl. Harold Cox saw the dog walking calmly on the street with the purse clutched in its mouth.

Mrs. Beatrice Archibald said when the dog approached as she was walking on the sidewalk, it jumped up, snatched the purse from her grasp and took off. Its owner is unknown. It was taken to the animal shelter.

Eighteen Western Hemisphere nations sent delegates to the First International Conference of American states in 1890, in Washington, D.C.

Sewer Line's Block Brings $10,000 Suit

Alleging damages as a result of an alleged stoppage in a sewer line, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph C. Unger, 1991 Lisbon St., filed a $10,000 civil action against the City of East Liverpool in Common Pleas Court at Lisbon Tuesday.

The Ungers claim that the city installed a sanitary and storm sewer in the Pleasant Heights area May 1, 1955, and the plaintiffs hooked into the system Oct. 10, 1955, as required by law.

Everything worked satisfactorily until Dec. 22, 1962, when sewage backed into the basement from a manhole in front of their house, they claim. The plaintiffs said they hired a plumbing contractor who notified the city that when the manhole gets clogged the sewage backs up. They said stoppages happened on three occasions prior to April 2, 1963.

They alleged that between April 2, 1963, and Feb. 25, the basement has been flooded 11 times to depths of 3 to 7 inches. On the last occasion, it was flooded twice within 24 hours, the petition says.

The plaintiffs claim they get little use out of the basement and things they store there must be elevated. The sewage back-up has an offensive odor, the suit says they've had to spend $50 for plumbers and the condition has reduced the value of their property from $23,000 to $16,000, the petition says.

On each complaint, a city crew pumps out the manhole but the city has done nothing to correct the problem permanently, the Ungers claim.

Crucible Names Man For Sale Of Titanium

Joseph A. Manfre of Beaver Falls has been appointed product sales manager for titanium mill products, the Crucible Steel Co. of America announced today at Pittsburgh.

Manfre will report to John P. Eberhart, product sales director. He became technical service engineer for Crucible in 1958 and moved to assistant product manager for titanium in 1962. Manfre is a native of Williamsport, Pa.

It Was Case Of Love's Labor's Lost For Boy

DANVILLE, Calif. (AP) — It was a case of love's labor lost Tuesday for Willard R. Whittenberg, 19, who was fined $56 and the cost of a can of paint remover for his trouble.

Whittenberg was caught by a Mt. Diablo State Park ranger paint-spraying a big rock with the words, "Ron and Linda." Judge Richard P. Calhoun gave him two weekends to erase the artwork.

Knife Injures Area Woman

A city woman injured on a butcher knife and a Wellsville woman hurt in a fall were among seven area residents treated at City Hospital Tuesday.

Mrs. Agnes Bess of Densmore Ave., who suffered a laceration of the left hand on a butcher knife was treated yesterday afternoon.

Mrs. Mabel Ritchey, 926 Center St., Wellsville, received a cut over the left eye in a fall down concrete steps.

William Garfield Reed, 22, of Oakmont was treated last night for an ankle injury which he twisted while playing basketball at the YMCA.

Fred Snowden Jr., 45, of Glenmoor received injuries to the right wrist in a fall from a ladder at home.

In a fall down steps at home, James Williams, 10-month-old son of James Williams of S. Shady Ln. Dr., received a bruised lip.

Douglas Allison, 17-month-old son of Elbert Allison of Hookstown R.D. 1, suffered a cut lip in a fall on a metal rocker.

Mrs. Permelia Kilmer, 317 Market St., received a toe injury when her foot bumped a rocker.

Faculty Moves To Ban Race Bias In Fraternities

DELAWARE, Ohio (AP) — Faculty members of Ohio Wesleyan University have adopted a resolution calling for action to eliminate racial discrimination clauses in the charters of campus fraternities and sororities.

The resolution also covers other university-sanctioned campus organizations. It does not set university policy but calls for action by the OWU Board of Trustees.

If trustees approve the proposal, each fraternity and sorority on campus would be required to produce a statement from national headquarters stating the local chapter is authorized to accept qualified members regardless of color or racial origin. Chapters which failed to comply by Dec. 31, 1965 would be required to separate from the national organization.

Kiwanis In Wellsville Aims Year's Activities

Activities and achievements the past year and proposed plans for the coming year were reviewed at a meeting of the Wellsville Kiwanis Club Tuesday noon at Platt's Tea Room.

Plans were made to transport 30 members of the Wellsville High School Key Club to the state convention April 9-10 at Cleveland. The boys will be accompanied by four Kiwanians.

The Board of Directors will meet Friday noon at Meade's Restaurant.

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: You seem to know all the answers, so perhaps you can tell me why in heaven's name a guest would be interested in what other folks have in their medicine cabinets.

Last Saturday afternoon I entertained my bridge club. One of the women took me aside just as I was about to serve the refreshments. She said, "I'm so sorry but I broke a bottle of your mouthwash. It fell out of the medicine cabinet. I hope I got all the glass up."

You know very well, Ann Landers, that bottles don't just "fall out" of medicine cabinets. She opened the cabinet door to see what was in there.

Will you explain why the contents of a medicine cabinet would be of interest to any body? BAFLED.

Dear Ann: My aunt who lives in Europe is visiting me. She started reading your column two weeks ago. Today she handed me your column and said, "Isn't it disgusting?" She was referring to a letter about a 16-year-old girl who had gotten pregnant and didn't know who the father was.

My aunt asked me why American newspapers print such trash. She said, "Yesterday Ann Landers published a letter from a mother of five children whose husband was making eyes at the baby sitter. This makes America look like a country overrun with sex maniacs, juvenile delinquents and gutter types."

I do believe you are giving overseas visitors a sorry picture and it might improve our image abroad if you would not print problems of a trashy nature. Thank you. — PROUD OF OUR COUNTRY.

Dear Proud: The purpose of this column is to help people. It is not a showcase for visitors.

Life would be lovely if there were no unwed mothers, juvenile delinquents or unfaithful husbands and wives, but these problems exist and they must be dealt with. Moreover they are not problems unique to America, they are human problems.

This column appears in Australia, South Africa, Canada, Pakistan, Mexico, Japan as well as in Europe. You didn't say what country your aunt came from but the letter that shocked her may have been written by a young girl from her home town.

Crafty Carpenter

Dear Ann: We hired a carpenter to add a room to our home. He had a helper who was drunk most of the time. After three months of fooling around and producing fifth-rate work, my husband threw the carpenter and his helper out. (Unfortunately we had paid in advance because the carpenter said he needed the money to buy the materials.)

My husband is so mad at having been taken in that he has been telephoning the carpenter at his home at all hours of the night. He curses and screams at anyone who answers the phone. (Usually it is the man's wife.)

I keep telling him he's behaving like a child, but his attitude is, "The whole family is going to suffer for this." What can I do? — A WIFE.

Dear Wife: Your husband has let this thing get him. He needs professional help.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Bringing Up A Family

By DR. GARRY MYERS

Age Difference Creates Play Problem

From California a girl, 10, writes of her problem with her sister, six: "When I have a friend over she gets in my way. She always wants to play with us then. My friend says to me, 'You should let her play with us.' So she ends up playing with us. And like everybody says, 'Two is Dr. Garry Myers all right, three is a crowd.' At night when I want to play with her she doesn't want to play with me. Please tell me what I should do about this problem."

MY REPLY in part. It is not strange that, when a playmate of yours comes to your house, your little sister wants to play with her and you. But the chances are that your playmate is about your age. Then each of you is much older than your little sister. Four years make a big difference. You and your playmate have many interests your little sister hardly has, and you two can do and play many things together she can't play as well.

At such a time, you should make sure not to try to play with them when not invited to do so, but let them have fun of their own without you. Then your sister might notice your good way. You even might say, as you leave her and a playmate who has called to have fun with her: "I will go so you can have your own fun together."

IF, AFTER a few weeks, you don't find your sister improving her ways when you have a guest in, you might decide to have a quiet private talk with your mother, explaining your problem to her and asking her to try to change your sister's ways.

As you and your mother get talking about this matter, both of you might think of ways to help your sister win more playmates of her age. The more of such playmates she has the less your problem should be.

You say that when you are home at night with your sister, she may not want to play with you. Do not insist that she play with you then. Don't feel badly if she doesn't. She may have a lot of things she wishes to do alone. You may have things you want to do alone.

Of course, it is fine when you and your sister play together sometimes. Try to have good fun, too. But as you are four years apart in ages you two hardly can be perfectly happy playmates most of the time. As you and your sister grow older and older, you will find that you will grow farther apart in your play interests.

HOWEVER, you may get a lot of good enjoyment showing her how to learn new games and to do and make some new things. If you are very kind to her, you may be able to make her feel proud that she is learning to do so many things and growing up so fast.

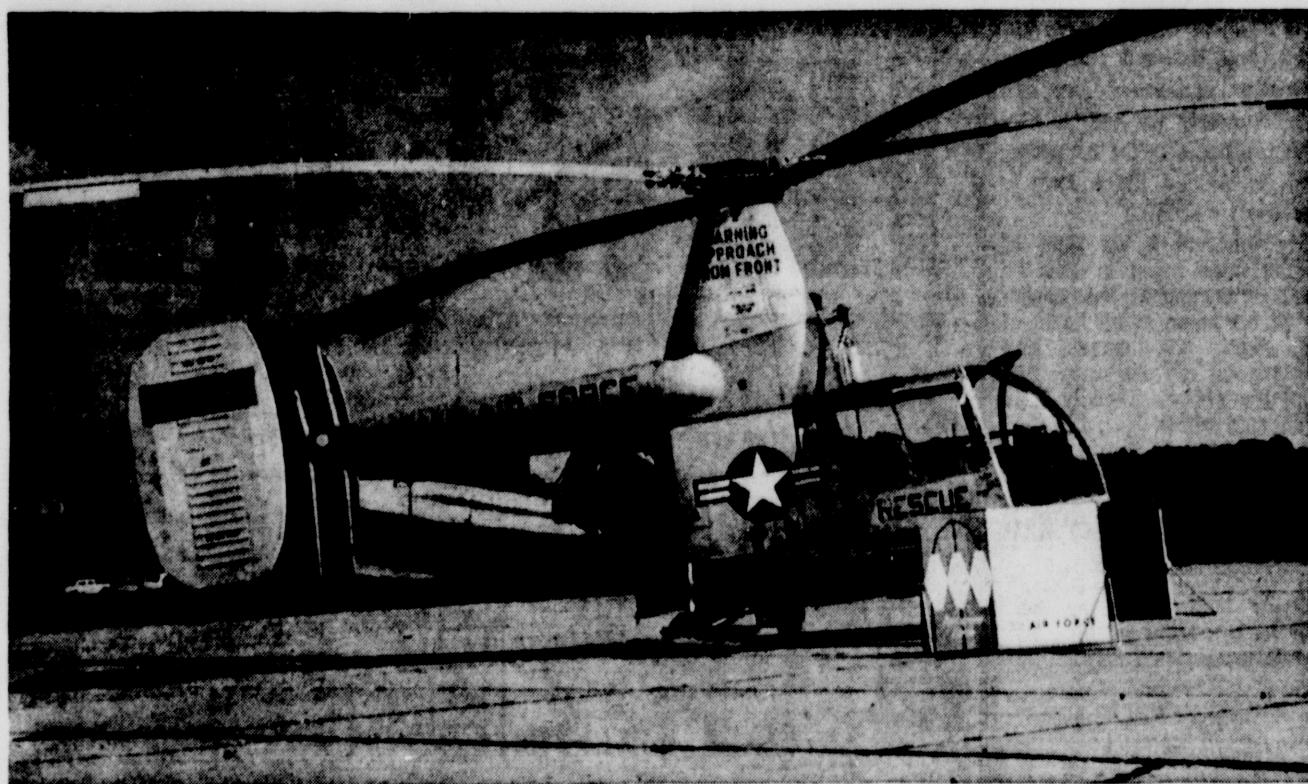

It is wonderful when a little sister looks up to her big sister and wants to keep learning from her. It's also wonderful when a big sister is proud of her little sister.

My bulletins, "Your Child and His Playmates" and "Quarreling and Fighting," may be secured by sending a self-addressed, stamped envelope to me in care of The Review.

Labials are sounds which are articulated mainly with one's lips—the sounds of B, M, P and W.

Home Show To Feature Helicopter

A small Air Force helicopter, the type used in airplane crash rescue work, will be on display during the Junior Chamber of Commerce Home Show April 7-10 at the former American Paper Products Co. building on Walnut St.

Frank Potts, show chairman, said permission has been received from the city to block off a section of street in the area to permit the public to view the craft.

The H-43 helicopter, called the "Huskie," is a small, powerful craft that can respond immediately to aircraft emergencies. It will be flown here from the Wright - Patterson Base at Dayton. It can fly a 1,000-pound fire-suppression kit plus two rescuemen-firefighters to a crash scene within minutes.

The kit, attached under the cabin, is released automatically at touchdown near the crash. The rescue team then exits. As the team approaches the burning aircraft, the Huskie rises and hovers.

Its powerful rotor downwash fans back the flames to open a path for the team's entry to the aircraft. From the fire-suppression kit is used to keep the path open. The downwash also supplies fresh air to the team and crash victims. The Huskie, powered by a 860-horsepower engine, has a top speed of 115 mph, a ceiling above 25,700 feet and a range beyond 175 miles. It is 25 feet long and stands 12.7 feet with a rotor diameter of 47 feet.

Other features of the Home Show will be a movie to be screened nightly at 8 and 8:45 by representatives of the Ohio Bell Telephone Co. It is entitled "Welcome to Ohio."

Miss Susan Jones of East Liverpool, Miss Columbian County Junior Miss, will visit the show Thursday night and Friday night Miss Teen-age Pittsburgh will perform. Students of the Myers Dance Studio will present a show Saturday night.

Jaycee clowns will perform nightly. Other entertainment will be provided.

Prizes will be given away nightly by the Jaycees. Potts' committee includes Ray Beteridge, Keith Goodman, Paul Grafton, Bob Owen, Gary White and Al Gloeckner.

All Jaycees were asked to report to the building Friday night at 7 and Saturday afternoon at 2 to help with the cleanup, Potts said.

Accused Slayer Of 3 Bound Over On Murder Count

CIRCLEVILLE, Ohio (AP)—An ex-convict from Dayton, already accused of a murder spree that took three lives, has been bound to the Pickaway County Grand Jury on a charge of first-degree murder.

No bond was set for 27-year-old Cleo Vernon Keaton after a preliminary hearing in Municipal Court Tuesday in the slaying of Maurice Francis of near Williamsport March 23. The grand jury convenes here April 5.

While the hearing was being conducted, the holdup slaying of a Dayton wine store clerk last Feb. 7 also was charged against Keaton.

Earlier, he had been accused of fatally shooting a man and a woman in a Dayton tavern March 15. The slaying of Francis took place, authorities charge, shortly before Keaton was captured in Jamestown, Greene County, in the aftermath of his flight from the Dayton tavern shootings.

The latest charge against him involves the holdup-shooting of Charles Summers, 36, a clerk in the Air City Wine Store on the North Dixie Highway in Dayton.

Sources At Research Center Deny Unit Hurting For Space

CLEVELAND (AP)—Sources at Lewis Research Center deny that the center is hurting for space, as implied in a congressional report critical of the lack of a master plan at Lewis.

The report issued Tuesday by the House Committee on Science and Astronauts says Lewis "is overcrowded with buildings and people, virtually hemmed in laterally, with no plan in existence to expand upward — the only direction left."

Actually, there are about 100 acres available for expansion at the center, which is adjacent to Cleveland Hopkins International Airport. In addition, a spokesman said, there are 6,000 acres at the Plum Brook facility near Sandusky, 50 miles west of the main research center.

Walter T. Olson, assistant director for public affairs at Lewis, said rapid changes in basic research make it possible for the center to follow a master plan. The congressional report said Lewis was one of two National Aeronautics and Space Administration facilities which avoid master plans "with disdain."

Olson said Lewis Center has general plans for land use, but "our difficulty is planning the exact buildings or equipment for research. You couldn't have foreseen what we're doing here now a few years ago."

Lewis is spread over 350 acres, with most of the buildings clustered near the former site of the National Air Races, just west of the airport.

The site extends across Rocky River, and it is here that a large area is available for expansion.

Ashbrook Says Ohio KKK Exists 'Only On Paper'

NEWARK, Ohio (AP)—The Ku Klux Klan exists "only on paper" in Ohio, Rep. John M. Ashbrook, R-Ohio, says.

Ashbrook, representing Ohio's 17th congressional district, said in a prepared statement Tuesday that three months of preliminary hearings by the House un-American Activities Committee show Ohio is not among the nine states with active KKK organizations.

Ashbrook was appointed to a five-man un-American Activities subcommittee to investigate activities of the Klan.

Ashbrook said, so far, preliminary investigations place actual Klan strength well below publicized estimates. These estimates run as high as 100,000 members but Ashbrook said the Klan's real strength probably is not over 15,000.

Constellation Makes Emergency Landing

CLEVELAND (AP)—A four-engine Trans World Airlines super constellation made an emergency landing at Cleveland Hopkins International Airport Tuesday after experiencing engine trouble shortly after take-off.

None of the 21 passengers or seven crewmen aboard was injured.

Arraignment Slated On Policy Slip Charge

HAMILTON, Ohio (AP)—Freddie Roy Reese, 38, Hamilton, faced arraignment today in Butler County Court on a charge of possessing policy slips.

Sgt. Charles Gibson of the sheriff's department said an anonymous tip led deputies to get a warrant and search Reese's car which was parked at a gas station on Ohio 4. The deputies found an envelope with 87 policy slips in the car and arrested Reese.

Executive's Mother Dies In Cincinnati

CINCINNATI (AP)—Private funeral services have been scheduled Friday for Mrs. Laura Willson Grace, 93, mother of local sports executive J. Thomas Grace.

Mrs. Grace died Tuesday. Her survivors include three sons, J. Thomas Grace, president of Cincinnati Gardens and executive vice president of the Cincinnati Royals professional basketball team; Dale F. Grace, president of Willson Dairy Co. and John J. Grace Jr. of Fontana, Calif.

School Board Urged To Oppose Issue No. 3

CLEVELAND (AP)—A member of the Cleveland Board of Education has urged other members to oppose State Issue No. 3, a constitutional amendment to provide for reapportionment of the Ohio House.

Daniel O. Corrigan said Tuesday he was against Issue No. 3 because it would not give cities adequate representation. "A rural-dominated legislature has proved it has a total lack of perception of the problems of large city schools," he said.

A Genius, Most Critics Say

Otto, The Film Producer

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK — Sticks and stones may break Otto Preminger's bones — but being called names doesn't seem to hurt him.
Or, if it does, he doesn't show it.
The controversial film producer is admitted even by most of his critics to be a genius. But as a result of his caustic tantrums and his ability to reduce both stars and underlings to resentful pools of jellied ego, he sometimes is called a tyrant and such nicknames as "The Terrible-Tempered Mr. Preminger" and "Otto the Sweet."
Otto himself is icily noncommittal.
"It makes no difference. What people think of me personally doesn't interest me. I'm not running for public office or engaged in a popularity contest."
"I never object to what people say about me. I'm interested only in what they think of my work."
The theater and films have been the passion of Preminger's life since he abandoned a law career in Vienna as a youth. He has worked as actor, writer, director and producer, and now prefers the lone wolf role because it satisfies his strongly independent nature.

"I produce and direct my pictures," he said, "because if the producer and director have a fight I always win — since I am both."
"I don't have to do what other people tell me. This is a great joy, for to me life means self-expression."
At 58 Otto, a man with iceberg eyes, a Hapsburg lip and a pink head shaven like Yul Brynner's, has made his devotion to his work pay off. He likes luxury and surrounds himself with it.
He has a gourmet's taste for fine food and wines, lives in a showplace home on the East Side here, collects expensive modern art.
Now he makes about one picture a year and plans it as methodically as a general going into battle. He likes to people his pictures with stars.

From script to final cutting every aspect of the picture bears his individual stamp.
Most of his films have made money, a fact which interests Otto because he gets a share of the profits plus a fee of around $400,000 for each picture.
"I am a relatively happy man, however," Otto said, "because I have educated myself not to become too overjoyed by success or too depressed by failure."
"Success is only important because it gives you the means to continue your work; failure, because it makes you take another look — to improve your work."
"But you must keep a sense of perspective and realize that what is important to you may not be a problem to the whole world. Most tensions in life come from overrating the importance of yourself and your problems. A sense of humor is better than any psychoanalyst."

ALWYN C. PURINTON JR.
Serves On U.S. Committee

Alwyn Purinton Put On League's Advisory Group

Alwyn C. Purinton Jr., secretary of the Potters Savings and Loan Co. here, has been appointed to the U.S. Savings and Loan League's 1965 Advisory Committee on State Legislation.
The appointment was announced by John W. Stadler of Washington, D.C., president of the league, which is the national trade organization for the savings and loan business and represents more than 5,100 savings associations.
The advisory committee reviews and discusses the present and proposed state legislation.

Keep In Trim

By IDA JEAN KAIN
Be Alert To Tension-Makers

At ease, thin girls. Smile. Not only does a smile rest your face, but it helps you to relax and "discard the mental wrinkles of anxious concern."
To gain, you must have surplus calories. One way to create this surplus is to eat a little more food at each meal and bolster your menus at nutritionally weak points, to get your full share of replenishing nutrients. Then, if you stop the energy leaks by which you squander calories at a reckless rate, you'll reap double dividends.

OF ALL THE factors that keep you underweight and below par, nervous tension is likely to be high on the list. One jittery thin girl complained that this is a tension age — it's in the very air. Is it? Take a deep breath... it can help you let go the muscular tensions. Tension is not in the air you breathe, but in the thoughts you think and the pace you set. Hurryitis can increase muscular tension. Not alone the fast pace, but the pushed feeling that builds pressure.

Wherever tension starts, in the mind or in the muscles, one augments the other. Relaxing begins in the mind with a change of attitude toward what is important. Think this through, for you have to be just plain aware of what builds tension within you. Once alert to energy robbers, you are in a better position to modify your pattern of living. Then your mind can direct your muscles to let go. The deliberate practice of relaxing can help immeasurably by breaking up the muscular habit patterns that keep you on the vicious worry-hurry-tension-go-round.

Another thin girl asks: "Could the fact that I flare up quickly keep me from gaining needed weight?" Ah, yes! Expressions that are literally true to an alarming degree are: "I seethed with resentment." "That burned me up!" "I was consumed with anger..."

STRONG emotions cause one to burn calories at such a reckless and wasteful rate — you borrow from tomorrow's energy and feel utterly spent the next day. But that's not all. Getting upset tends to diminish appetite and to inhibit the digestive processes at any and all its stages.

At this point you may be puzzled by the overweight who gets upset but gains. Why? The overweight eats to calm down, and unconsciously uses food as a tranquilizer.

A relaxed pace during the day leads to more restful sleep at night. And long hours of sleep in turn help to lessen nervous tension the following day. Improved food habits with better nutrition aid weight gaining, and the added padding on the nerve endings leads to a sense of calm well-being.

So, thin girls, keep in mind the rewarding extras that come with relaxing. Go at gaining with a joyous expectation of good things happening to you. There is a healthier, happier way of life for you. Claim it!

Atlantic Fleet Ships To Start Operation
NORFOLK, Va., (AP) — Men, supplies and equipment aboard 20 Atlantic Fleet ships embark today for Operation Quick Kick VII.

The operation is to be held off Vieques Island, 50 miles from San Juan, P.R., during April. Almost 10,000 soldiers, sailors, airmen and Marines will take part in the test of tactical concepts for joint operations by an amphibious landing and airborne assault.

Auto Skids On Gravel And Damages Garage

A garage was damaged Tuesday night about 9:30 when a North Side man's auto skidded on loose gravel at Ray and St. John Sts. as he rounded a turn into an alley, police reported.
The 1959 two-door sedan driven by Joseph D. Howell, 20, of 911 Princeton Ave., damaged the doors and front of a garage owned by Frank Hilliard, 325 Ogden St. The right front fender and rear bumper of the auto were scratched, police said.
Howell told officers he was turning into an unnamed alley when the car slid on the gravel. Patrolmen L. E. Richard and W. F. Copestick investigated.

Lake County Names New Welfare Director

PAINESVILLE, Ohio (AP) — Lake County commissioners have named Robert L. Moon, former Mentor city manager, acting director of the Lake County Welfare Department to replace George V. Carlson, who was fired Monday.
Carlson is fighting his ouster, which was ordered because he refused to give up a 13-year-old boy who had been assigned to his home by court order. Carlson contends his firing was politically motivated.

Warming Trend Due To Remain Thursday

A warming trend that moved into the area today will continue Thursday, the Ohio weatherman said.
Calling for a high of about 42 this afternoon, he said it will be cloudy and warmer tonight and Thursday. The overnight low will be 26-32.
The mercury fell to 20 at 6 a. m. today in the downtown area. It was 12 at the same time in the suburbs.

Town In Italy Has Oriental Rug Boom

PALERMO, Sicily (AP) — Since 1962 the little Sila mountain town of San Giovanni in Fiore has been booming with the production of Oriental hand-loomed carpets.
The production is directed by Sergius Musceghian, an Armenian refugee who settled here at the end of World War II.
Now the town's carpet shops employ 30 girls and turn out 300 to 400 square meters of carpet a year.

Comedy Planned By Lisbon Class

LISBON — "The Curious Savage," a three-act comedy by John Patrick, will be presented Friday, April 9, at 8 p.m. at the school gymnasium as the annual play of the senior class of David Anderson High School.
Miss Deronda Crichtfield is director, assisted by Miss Eileen McCullough.

The play is a hit on Broadway in 1950, is the story of "The Cloisters" an insane asylum in Massachusetts. Mrs. Ethel P. Savage, a patient, proves that people inside are not as insane as people in the outside world.
The cast includes Sandy Tullamore, Bob Alexander, Bernice Vulcan, Kenny Roberts, Becky Biggins, Bill Blocksom, Nancy

Ramsey, John Borza, Jodine Pilmer, Ron Watkins and Glenna Logston.

Tickets may be purchased from any member of the class or at the door.

Girl Will Get Training As Grid Cheer Leader

Miss Susan Rae Geisse, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Geisse of John St., has been accepted for training with the Washington Red Skinnettes, the cheer leading section of the Washington Red Skins, professional football team.

Gray Connor Honored

Scout Receives Award

An Eagle Scout Award was presented to Gary Connor, a member of Boy Scout Troop 7 of St. Aloysius Catholic Church, in a charter night ceremony at the school Sunday.

Connor received the medal from his mother and in return presented her with a necklace.

Troop 7 and Cub Scout Pack 7, also of the church, received their charters from Fr. William Lawler, pastor of the church, who accepted them from Dale Hoyt, assistant scout commissioner.

John Stoy is cubmaster of Pack 7.

Gary, a sophomore at Beaver Local High School, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Francis E. Connor of the Substation Rd.

Lisbon Tel-Star Club Meets At Wellsville District Home

Nine members of the Tel-Star Club of Lisbon met Tuesday at the home of Mrs. May DeLong of Wellsville R.D. 1.

The opening prayer was led by Mrs. Ruth Wallace, president.

The birthdays of Mrs. Carrie Conrad and Mrs. Hattie Smith were honored at a noon luncheon.

Prayer led by Mrs. Sarah Gartland closed the meeting.

Mrs. Florence Applegate of Lisbon R. D. 2 will be hostess for the next meeting, Tuesday, April 27, at 7:30 p.m.

Coterie Entertained

Mrs. C. W. Higgs of Bacon Raton, Fla., a guest, and 20 members of the Coterie met at the home of Mrs. Frank Adomitis of E. Pine St. Monday evening.

Mrs. Byron Albright, president, conducted business, with the roll call response, "My Visit to an Old Town."

"The Old Towns of the West" was the program subject presented by Mrs. Frank Davies, dressed in the styles of 1880. Mrs. Davies told about Central City, Colo., Virginia City Nev., and other familiar places in the West, which are contained in the book, "The American West," by Lucius Beebe and Charles Clegg.

Songs Featured

Group singing of "Oh Susanna" and "Home on the Range," led by Mrs. Davies, lent accent to the program. Miss Lois Armstrong was program leader.

The next meeting will be April 19 at the home of Mrs. Floyd Lower of E. Chestnut St.

The Lisbon Lionettes annual Easter variety show and treat for County home residents was presented Sunday evening.

Banjo selections were played by Jay Hostetter; and tap dancing was given by Miss Terry Eells, with Mrs. Delores Craig of East Liverpool as accompanist.

Style Show Given

"A Gay 90's Style Show" was presented by Mrs. Mildred Poole, Mrs. Verna Stone, Mrs. Mary Clement of East Liverpool, Mrs. Corrine Zeigler of Hanoverton, Mrs. Agnes Ford and Mrs. Delores Krause of Lisbon.

Dressed as Easter bunnies, little Michelle and Vicki Chan, presented Easter eggs to each resident. Fruit also was given each by the club members.

A rummage sale sponsored by the Lionettes will be held Thursday through Saturday at the Democratic Headquarters on N. Market St. Those who have items to contribute are asked to call Mrs. Ford, 424-5412, or Mrs. Poole of Riverview St., East Liverpool.

To Finance Treats

Proceeds will be used for the treats given by the club members with the variety show for Veterans Hospitals and the County Home.

A visit to the Aspinwall Veterans Hospital is scheduled for May 8 and in June. The group will entertain at the Oakland Veterans' Hospital in Pittsburgh.

The next regular meeting will be Monday at the home of Mrs. Clement of East Liverpool.

Bill Recommended For Passage

Ohio Juveniles Could Die In Chair In Murder Cases

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Jurisdiction in such cases to common-pleas court with the option of certifying that the defendant is "emotionally, intellectually, and physically sound."

With this certification, defendants would be tried as adults and subject to the death penalty upon conviction, Landes and Evans explained.

In other legislative developments, the GOP - dominated House Rules Committee voted to kill the controversial "fractional vote" reapportionment plan offered by minority Democrats, asserting it is unconstitutional.

The action surprised no one in view of Republican campaigning for their own reapportionment plan, which will appear on the May Primary ballot in the form of a proposed constitutional amendment.

The Senate Commerce and Labor Committee reported out a compromise "fair housing" bill considerably weaker than one sought by statewide labor and civil rights groups. The compromise bill now goes to the Senate Rules Committee.

Standing committees recommended five other bills for passage during an otherwise dull legislative day.

They would reduce to a simple majority the vote needed to pass local bond issues at general elections (with 55 per cent majority required at special and primary elections); exempt educational research groups from the sales tax, and require notification to school boards of tax valuation changes.

The Senate Agriculture and Conservation Committee recommended passage of two house-approved bills — one to change the name of the Agricultural Experiment Station at Wooster to the Ohio Agricultural Research and Development Center, and another setting standards for Ohio's honey and beeswax industry.

House members passed three minor bills and a fourth increasing the penalty for the illegal taking of deer in Ohio. Rep. Delbert B. Jeffery, R-Paulding, along with seven cosponsors, offered the proposal which would add penalties of 30 days in jail plus a three-year hunting ban and increase the maximum fine from $100 to $500.

Out Of The Air

By HAL HUMPHREY

Every Business Is Like Show Business

Gary Conway, the handsome young second policeman on "Burke's Law," is turning in his badge. He says he wants no part of a third season in a role that has "no growth."

Maybe there wouldn't have been room on the series for him next season anyway. Amos Burke (Gene Barry) Hal Humphrey is leaving the force and becoming "Amos Burke—Secret Agent" when ABC brings the series back in the fall.

Even if they did need Gary to hold the door on Burke's Rolls Royce again, he insists he wouldn't be back.

EXCEPT FOR the first show of this season and one he did three weeks ago, Gary says his role always was on a "superficial level" and that working with a star like Barry, "who loves to be in every scene," made it tough for Gary to create any impact for himself.

The same kind of disenchantment gripped Albert Salmi a few weeks ago. He is checking his musket and coonskin cap and leaving the "Daniel Boone" camp at NBC. Some of the bad Indians were getting meatier lines than Salmi had most of the time.

Robert Lansing, the commanding general in ABC's "12 O'Clock High," received on uncollected honorable discharge. They are putting a colonel (Paul Burke) in command next season and juicing up the action for the kiddies at an earlier hour—7:30 Mondays instead of 10 p.m. Fridays.

LANSING, who went to the ultimate in method acting by taking flying lessons for this role, maintains he is not the least bit unhappy about being released. The late Gen. Douglas MacArthur didn't want to return to the Philippines, and Liz Taylor doesn't understand why the press is interested in her, either.

Publicity and the hot eye of the TV camera can have a strange effect on people, as you can observe. Let us hope, for example, that TV doesn't overdo it where our astronauts are concerned.

Watching Virgil Grissom and John Young at their press conference last week brought it to mind. What if Young decided that Grissom was hogging too much spotlight, just because he'd been in orbit before?

LIKE WITH OUR actor friend, Gary Conway, the role of second banana might not appeal to astronaut Young. He gets home and his wife and friends say, "Gee, Johnny boy, you looked great on TV when we could see you, but that guy Grissom sure was trying to hog it."

The next thing we know Young has gone to the NASA chief and said he wants his own Gemini next time, and none of this tandem bit with a guy who wants to be on camera all the time.

What a blow it would be if the Russians got wind of Young's unhappiness and told him that he could have the part of the cosmonaut who swings in space from their next Sputnik. "Astronaut Jumps Contract for Bigger Russky Role," the headline in Variety would read, heralding a whole new era in "show business."

IT MIGHT NOT have been so smart for the Jet Propulsion Laboratory people to let the TV cameras in their place last week when JPL's Ranger 9 hit the moon.

You may recall that the scientists there stood up and applauded when they saw the "live" TV pictures come in from Ranger 9 and they called for director William Pickering to take a special bow.

But for all we know, there was some lower echelon bird (another second banana) sitting in the fourth row that day and gnawing his heart out for lack of recognition.

To make things worse, he gets home and his wife greets him with, "Well, Henry, the back of your head looked great on TV today, just great, and if you don't tell that Pickering off, I am going."

Workers Slated Back On Jobs At Cape Kennedy

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — Construction workers were expected to return to their jobs at Cape Kennedy today after the sixth work stoppage caused by labor problems in the past 14 months.

Local 803 of the Plumbers and Pipefitters Union, which is involved in work here, withdrew picket lines late Tuesday after they had crippled construction for two days. More than 4,200 of 5,000 union building trades workers had refused to cross the lines.

Richard H. Frank, an attorney for Local 803, said: "Assistant Secretary of Labor James Reynolds will hold a meeting Sunday in Washington with representatives of the plumbers union to see if this matter can't be resolved. In consideration of this fact, the union has agreed to withdraw the picket lines."

Local 803 seeks to become bargaining agent for employees of Harper Plumbing and Heating Co., of Winter Park, which has two subcontracts at the missile base.

Missing Ohio Man Working In Kansas

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A Columbus motel manager missing since March 11 has been working as a night clerk in a Kansas City hotel, police here said they learned Tuesday.

Police had been searching for Joseph Wing, 49, who was reported missing after he failed to show up for work at the Airway Lodge, Inc., where he worked as manager.

Living Costs Held Steady In February

WASHINGTON (AP) — Living costs held steady in February, the first time in six months there has not been an increase, the Labor Department reported. Meantime some 13 million factory workers took home record high pay checks.

Higher prices for women's clothing, poultry, potatoes and consumer services were balanced off by decreases in prices for automobiles, gasoline, telephone service and eggs, leaving the consumer price index at 108.9.

The index, based on 1957-59 prices, showed it cost $10.89 in February to buy typical items worth $10 in the base period.

Take-home pay after taxes averaged $95.65 a week for workers with three dependents and $88 for single workers, both 20 cents a week higher than in January. The increase was due to a longer work week the Bureau of Labor Statistics said.

Contributions Refused In Support Of Tax Bid

CLEVELAND (AP) — City Safety Director John N. McCormick has refused to accept contributions from firemen in support of Mayor Ralph S. Locher's proposed ¼ of 1 per cent city income tax.

"If the mayor asks my opinion on the donations I will recommend that the funds be returned to the men," McCormick said Tuesday. He had issued an order Sunday night that collections from firemen be halted. Patrick J. McManamon, vice president of the Cleveland Fire Fighters Union, said three-fourths of the city's 1,275 firemen have donated. He said the men "are not against the collection."

Man Fatally Injured In Highlift Mishap

WELLSBURG, W. Va. (AP) — An Ohio County man was fatally injured Tuesday when a highlift machine he was driving plunged down an embankment along W. Va. 67 near here. The victim was Chris W. Peluchette, 36, of Wheeling.

PUC Urges Repeal Of Phone Excise Tax

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The Public Utilities Commission of Ohio has urged Congress, in a resolution, to repeal the federal excise tax levied on telephone and telegraph service.

The commission said the imposition of the tax on residential telephone service is one of the most regressive taxes and works unreasonable hardships on lower income families.

Harry Helped Crucible Be A Winner Last Year

He didn't do it alone, of course, no one does. As people in the Beaver Valley well know, it's teamwork that wins ball games and a winning team results from the individual effort of its members.

It's that way in a company, too. At Crucible our team has more than 12,000 members. The individual effort of each of these people adds up to a customer satisfied because he has a quality product delivered on time—the key to success.

In his job, for example, Harry Herron packages and labels stainless steel coils so that they are delivered in perfect condition. If the job is not done properly, not only is the customer unhappy, but the efforts of the rest of the team are wasted. Waste of time and materials raises production costs reducing the profit the company makes on its sales. How much profit is necessary? That's difficult to measure, but in 1964 Crucible in total earned over $9 million but spent $10 million at Midland works alone for expansion. Continued investment is necessary if Crucible is to stay competitive and provide security for its people.

Hints from Heloise

— By Heloise Cruse —

Dear Heloise: We run a small store where many of the signs are written with felt-tip pens. Two of the sales clerks were continually leaving these pens lying around without putting the caps back on. The pens always dried up and were completely useless.

I finally found a way to put new life in them.

Just soak the dried-up felt tip in ordinary rubbing alcohol for 24 hours! Then put the cap back on and let the pen lie for a day or two.

Now, it writes like new again.

LITTLE MISS MARKER.

MISS BIG MARKER: I have been testing it four months (in case some of you wonder why your hints aren't published immediately) with all our dried-up markers and found your idea absolutely great.

I went further in testing and here are some more ideas:

Some markers have a screw-on top. These tops can be unscrewed and alcohol poured directly over the felt inside the tube!

We also found that on some brands of markers, cigarette lighter fluid worked better.

Some markers seem to have no way of refilling. But there is a way. You will find the felt embedded in the metal. Don't give up. Just take your hand and twist the felt out of the metal. Then pour your rubbing alcohol or lighter fluid into the container and reinsert the hard felt square by TWISTING it in again.

Twist until you feel it reinserted into the indentations in the metal. Recap it and stand it upside down in a jelly glass so the alcohol can absorb into the dry marker for a day or so.

Thanks for your hint that set my thinking cap in the right position.

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: Like everyone else's children, my cherubs have broken enough thermometers during the past few years to keep the manufacturers of these indispensable items in fine financial shape.

I could never quite bring myself to throw away the pencil-like containers in which the thermometers had so recently arrived from the pharmacy.

I now have one in each purse, filled with just one or two bobbie pins, straight pins, needles already threaded with light and dark thread for those inconvenient emergencies and little safety pins for those broken straps.

The cases can be sprayed gold and decorated with sequins or glued-on seed pearls for your evening bag.

HAZEL MULLER.

DEAR HELOISE: My young son loves to make model airplanes and invariably winds up with some of the airplane glue on his clothes.

Do you have a method for removing it?

HAZEL.

To remove airplane glue (or household cement), sponge stain with amyl acetate. Buy at drugstore. Place cloth underneath stain, remove and replace with clean cloth as glue dissolves. Continue until stain is gone. Apply with cotton or soft cloth.

The above method will also remove lacquer.

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: This is a trick I caught onto when one of the burners went out on my stove.

I have a large double boiler and in the bottom of this I would put the potatoes to be boiled for a meal. When the potatoes were nearly done, I'd put a vegetable (canned type) in the top section and put the lid on.

When the potatoes were done, the vegetable was warm.

This also works for hot dogs and soup . . . put hot dogs and water in bottom of pan and soup in the top section.

ANNE FULLER.

Bigger Trout Stocking Due For Hancock

Delegate George D. Tokash of Hancock County said today 7,600 pounds of trout will be stocked in the county in 1965, an increase of 5,527 pounds over the 2,073 stocked in 1964.

Tokash said he received the data from Warden M. Lane, director of the Department of Natural Resources at Charleston. Kings Creek will get 2,000 pounds of trout, a gain of 1,400 pounds; Tomlinson Run will be stocked with 2,000 pounds, a gain of 1,527, and Tomlinson Run Lake will get 3,600 pounds, an increase of 2,600 pounds.

Tokash said that the stocking of rainbow and golden trout will be finished before April 24, the opening date for trout fishing. The fish are being transported from Spring Run Hatchery and the Petersburg Hatchery, the bulk of them coming from Spring Lake.

This is the last year that there will be an opening date for trout season. Tokash advised that the Department of Natural Resources feels that it can better utilize its equipment if stocking can be carried on at any time of the year.

Under the present set up, equipment and men are heavily taxed during the latter part of March and April because all streams and lakes in the state which are stocked must be visited preparatory to the opening of trout season.

Lane also informed Tokash that additional stocking on a smaller scale will take place in the county later this year when stream and weather conditions permit.

Tokash, serving his first term in the legislature, serves as a member of the committee on Game and Fish, and as a result of this was able to work closely with other persons who are interested in further developing of the recreational opportunities for fishermen and hunters in the state.

Deadline's Near On Towboat Pact

New negotiations set to today may determine if towboat crews for three companies operating in Pittsburgh area waters will go on strike at midnight at the expiration of a two-year contract.

About 260 members of three unions will be affected if a strike is called against Keystone Division of Dravo Corp., Hillman Transportation Co. and Consolidated Coal Co. which operate 10 boats in area rivers.

Negotiators for the Masters, Mates & Pilots Union, Local 25, the National Maritime Union and the Marine Engineers Beneficial Association will meet with Consolidated Coal and Hillman Transportation representatives today.

Ohio's AFL-CIO Bids To Re-Elect Labor's Friends

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The Ohio AFL-CIO is cooperating with the Democratic National Committee in an effort to get "friends of labor" elected to Congress last November re-elected in 1966.

"This is not a deal to get them to represent the labor point of view," said state Sen. Frank W. King of Toledo, Ohio AFL-CIO president.

"What we are trying to do is to help these new congressmen do the best job they can, to learn how to make contacts, and to broaden their base. We are doing this because we know if they do a good job, the people will re-elect them."

King said Tuesday night that he and Walter Davis, six-state director of the labor organization's Committee on Political Education (COPE), and a representative of the Democratic National Committee will kick the program off in Ohio Friday night.

He said they will meet with first-term Rep. John J. Gilligan of Cincinnati, one of four Democrats who ousted Ohio Republicans last year.

King said further meetings—still unplanned—will be held with the other new Democratic congressmen, Rodney M. Love of Dayton, Congressman-at-large Robert E. Sweeney of Bay Village, and Walter H. Moeller of Lancaster.

All W. Va. Counties Urged To Spur Project Head Start

CHARLESTON (AP)—Gov. and Mrs. Hulett Smith told educators from all 55 counties Tuesday they must devote their time and energy to Project Head Start if the program to aid preschool children is to become a success this summer.

This made the statements in separate speeches during the morning session of a day-long meeting designed to acquaint county school boards and superintendents with the federal program.

Mrs. Smith, who is heading West Virginia's role in the project, emphasized the need for the educator's help. "Only you and you alone can create a better generation of West Virginians than we have had before," she said.

Under the eight-week program designed to begin about July 1, underprivileged youngsters will attend community development centers where they will be introduced to basic health programs and given instruction designed to stimulate their intellectual curiosity. Gov. Smith said West Virginia has more than 15,000 children who should attend the kindergarten-type classes.

The centers will receive 90 per cent financing from the federal government with participating counties contributing the remaining 10 per cent either in cash or related services. Part of this 10 per cent will come from a $50,000 legislative appropriation for the program.

Jule M. Sugarman, an official of the Office of Economic Opportunity, attended today's session and commended the legislative appropriation.

"Since the program was announced eight weeks ago," he said, "no state has done more planning and preparation than West Virginia."

He also stressed the need for community support and the importance of getting the children who "really need the help."

Two Children Perish In Warren Area Fire

WARREN, Ohio (AP)—Firemen could see two children trapped inside a burning pony barn in rural Kinsman but were unable to reach them because of the intense heat.

Raymond Ragan, 6, and Constance Thorp, 7, both died Tuesday in the barn behind the home of Mr. and Mrs. Martin Ragan on Ohio 87. Their son and the neighbor girl, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Thorp, were playing in the second floor of the hay-filled barn.

Kinsman volunteer firemen said the children apparently were playing with matches.

Jumps To His Death

CLEVELAND (AP)—Police said a 47-year-old downtown hotel resident apparently jumped 150 feet to his death from the Lorain-Carnegie Bridge Tuesday night. Frank Dahl was pronounced dead at Lutheran Hospital. He lived and worked at the L & K Hotel on Bolivar Road, S. E.

Antenna TV Opponents See Federal Control Of Systems

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Opponents of legislation placing Community Antenna Television (CATV) Systems under state control have predicted such systems will be under federal control by the end of the year.

Testifying Tuesday before the Ohio Senate Public Utilities and Public Works Committee were representatives of the Ohio Association of Broadcasters, the Ohio Municipal League, and of the industry itself.

The bill, by Sen. Tennyson Guyer, R-Hancock, would place Community Antenna Television Systems under jurisdiction of the Utilities Commission, which would regulate rates and set standards.

Carlton Dargusch Jr., secretary-treasurer and general counsel for the OAB told the committee there is no need for the state to step in "because there is evidence the Federal Communications Commission will assume jurisdiction by the end of 1965."

Community TV systems first were established in Ohio about 13 years ago. Since that time they have been under local or municipal control but have had a relatively free hand in establishing rates and setting service standards.

Guyer and other proponents have conceded that antenna system operators now in business in Ohio "may well be doing a fine job." But he pointed out that no guidelines have been established for "a new and growing industry" and said some safeguards are needed to keep undesirable people out of the business.

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP)—William J. Sinnott, the man who stopped a bullet intended for Franklin D. Roosevelt is dead.

Sinnott died at St. Francis Hospital Monday night at the age of 78. He had lived here many years.

Man Hit With Bullet Intended For FDR Claimed

One bullet killed Mayor Anton Cermak of Chicago. Sinnott, lunging for the gunman, took the other slug in the head.

Three other persons were wounded before Zangara went down under a swarm of police and Secret Service men.

Sinnott, a New York policeman was a security man assigned to Roosevelt's headquarters in a New York hotel on election night in 1932.

He happened to be in the crowd the day of the shooting, and Roosevelt's secretary, Marvin McIntyre, asked him to reinforce the guard around Roosevelt's car.

Zangara was excused for his crime.

Canton Repository Has 150th Birthday

CANTON, Ohio (AP)—The Canton Repository observed its 150th anniversary Tuesday, seven locations and three ownerships after its founding March 30, 1815.

Records show only 6 of the 23 newspapers published in Ohio in 1815 now survive. Four of them are dailies—the Chillicothe Gazette (founded in 1800), Steubenville Herald-Star (1806), Lancaster Eagle-Gazette (1809) and the Repository. Two are weeklies—the Lebanon Western Star (1807) and St. Clairsville Gazette and Chronicle (1812).

The Repository, founded as a weekly by young John Saxton, remained in the ownership of him, his son Thomas W. Saxton and the latter's heir for 80 years until 1895. George B. Freese and his family were owners until 1927.

It was in that year that the late Louis H. Brush, Roy D. Moore and William H. Vodrey purchased the Repository and formed Brush-Moore Newspapers, Inc.

Son's Quick Thinking Saves Life Of Doctor

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP)—A son's quick-thinking use of a borrowed penknife to open his father's windpipe is credited with saving the life of a Dayton, Ohio, doctor.

Dr. Robert C. Austin Sr. of Dayton was being carried from his hotel room on a stretcher after a heart attack Tuesday when his pulse stopped.

The son, Robert C. Austin Jr., also a doctor, knelt over his father and began massaging the heart externally. He sent the hotel manager for a knife and a piece of rubber tubing and performed a tracheotomy in a hallway of the hotel. The tracheotomy allowed sufficient oxygen could get to the heart.

Lima Man, 42, Dies From Wreck Injuries

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—A Lima man died early today in St. Anthony Hospital of injuries suffered in a March 17 traffic accident in Logan County.

Dead is 42-year-old Stewart Miles, who was a passenger in a car that crashed on U. S. 33 just east of the Auglaize County line, near Indian Lake.

Ohio 5-Day Forecast

Warming trend with temperatures averaging 4 to 8 degrees above normal. Representative normal highs and lows are Cleveland 51-31, Cincinnati 59-39 and Columbus 56-35. Rainfall will average a quarter to a half-inch east to three-quarters inch west, occurring near the end of the week.

Poorest County In Arkansas Welcomes Anti-Poverty Plan

JASPER, Ark. (AP)—The leaders of Arkansas' poorest county welcome President Johnson's anti-poverty program as a means of training their people to do better what they have always done — depart.

Newton County, which has the lowest per capita income — $549 annually — in the state, has been steeped in poverty for decades and has little hope of joining the affluent society.

"Our problem is education and training," said W.H. Haddock, superintendent of schools and head of a committee coordinating anti-poverty work in Newton County.

"We've got to keep these children in school until they can learn a job," Haddock said. "They need the skills that will enable them to obtain employment when they leave."

The government designated Newton County as one of 182 counties in the nation too poor to pay the local government's 10 per cent share of the cost of the program. The federal government will pay the entire cost.

"We just have enough county revenue to operate regular services," said County Judge Roy Raulston. "If any area is entitled to help, our little county is."

The primary Newton project is a neighborhood Youth Corps to be operated through the county's four school districts.

The budget for the project is $116,000. Newton County's share would have been $11,600.

"There just wasn't any money," Raulston said.

Newton County is in north Arkansas, locked in a beautiful Ozark Mountain area. The Buffalo River, one of the nation's last free-flowing streams, runs through the county of 6,000 residents.

Jasper, the largest town with about 300 residents, isn't on a major highway. The only other incorporated town in the county is Western Grove, population 150, on U.S. 65.

The only available employment is in timber, marginal mining, a few small sawmills and marginal farms. The young have to leave because there is no employment for them.

Industry won't touch the area because of shipping problems.

Man Drives 1915 Model T Off Ship Into Tax Roadblock

SOUTHAMPTON, England (AP)—Fred Sturgard drove his 1915 Model T off the Queen Elizabeth Tuesday and ran into a tax roadblock.

The customs men told him: "You can't bring her in unless you pay taxes — 25 per cent sales tax, 25 per cent import tax, 15 per cent import surcharge."

"But this is antique and antiques are free of taxes," the 46-year-old geologist from Nashville, Tenn., argued.

"Not so," said the customs officer. "An article must be 100 years old before it is classed as antique and the Tin Lizzie wasn't even invented then."

An argument on the Model T's value followed.

Sturgard said he paid $2,800 for the car. But he didn't see why he should pay tax on all that when it was sold 50 years ago for only $375.

A valuation expert was called from London. But before he arrived a solution was found — Sturgard didn't have to pay a penny.

"I've been based in Britain some time and they were taking me as a resident," he said.

"But when they examined my passport more closely they found that with holidays on the Continent taken into account I've spent less than 12 months here in the past two years."

"That means I haven't established residence and they've let the Lizzie in tax-free on a year's visitor's permit."

That settled. Sturgard set off for London. Lizzie proved a reluctant starter so the customs men helped him on with a shove.

Missionary Sets Gardendale Talk

The Rev. Wendell Woods, a missionary on furlough from Japan, will speak at the Gardendale Church of the Nazarene Thursday at 7:30 p. m.

Rev. and Mrs. Woods are spending their first furlough since being assigned to Japan in 1959 by the Department of Foreign Missions of the Church of the Nazarene. They will live in Wilmington, Calif., with their four children during the furlough year.

The service will feature the work of the Nazarene Church in Japan. Color slides will be screened and a varied display of Japanese items will be featured.

The spring revival at the church will begin Friday and continue nightly at 7:30 through April 11. The Rev. Paul Brooks of Chester will be speaker. Music will be furnished by special guests and the church choir under the direction of Richard Ward. The Rev. Gordon D. Hall is pastor.

Two Women Killed As Train Rams Car

GREENWICH, Ohio (AP)—The engineer of a 12-car New York Central passenger train saw the auto pull onto the crossing 75 yards in front of him. He pulled the emergency brake.

Daniel Steiger of Indianapolis said he was unable to stop the train. It smashed into the auto Tuesday, killing two women and hurling the car engine 100 feet through the window of a gasoline station.

Dead are Mrs. June Mack of Ashland and Mrs. Alberta Jean Mills, 23, of Greenwich. Mrs. Mack's daughter, Mary Beth, 6, was killed by a car Feb. 24 in front of her home.

Police said an investigation indicated Mrs. Mack was the driver. She was thrown out of the auto and Mrs. Mills was pinned in the twisted wreckage.

20% Of Great Lakes Ports Seen Closing

CHICAGO (AP)—The director of the Port of Toledo, Ohio, also is president of the American Association of Port Authorities, predicts that 20 per cent of all Great Lakes ports eventually will have to close.

"There are 63 Great Lakes ports, said Louis C. Purdy, "and it is impossible for a steamship line to make 63 stops coming in and 63 going out. Those ports which develop cargo potential will stay."

Purdy did not name the ports he thought might close, but he said the attrition would begin in 1966.

"Would you like to step outside and chase somebody?"

Today In History

By The Associated Press

Today is Wednesday, March 31, the 90th day of 1965. There are 275 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history: On this date in 1854, the first treaty between the United States and Japan was signed. The Treaty of Kanagawa arranged for the protection of American seamen and opened two ports to U.S. ships after centuries as a secluded and almost inaccessible island kingdom.

On this date

In 1840, President Martin Van Buren established the 10-hour day as standard on government work.

In 1880, Wabash, Ind., became the first American town to be wholly lighted by electricity under the new Brush system of arc lights.

In 1889, Paris celebrated the completion of the Eiffel Tower.

In 1931, Notre Dame's football coach, Knute Rockne, was killed in a plane crash.

In 1939, Britain and France pledged immediate assistance to Poland in the event of aggression.

Ten years ago — President Dwight Eisenhower signed a bill giving pay raises totaling $745 million to members of the armed services.

Five years ago—The golden anniversary White House Conference on Children and Youth was held at College Park, Md.

One year ago—The mother of the governor of Massachusetts, Mrs. Malcolm Peabody, 74, was arrested in a civil rights demonstration in St. Augustine, Fla.

This 'n That

Members of the bird-watching team at Cape Kennedy, Fla., strap aluminum snake guards on their legs and wade through mosquito-infested swamps to defend their record of 200 species seen in one day.

The largest volcanic crater in the world is that of Mt. Aso, in Kyushu, Japan, which measures 17 by 10 miles and is 71 miles in circumference.

Junior Editors Quiz on

QUESTION: Do whales have big teeth?

ANSWER: Whales are such huge creatures—up to 111 feet long—that one might reasonably expect them to have very large teeth. Our artist drew the upper picture thinking of how one might imagine whales' teeth to be if one hadn't checked up on the facts. This picture is entirely false. It's a whale with false teeth! Actually, the largest whales, called baleen or whalebone whales, have no teeth at all. They live by straining small sea creatures from the water, using horny plates of whalebone, which hang down inside their mouths, for this purpose. The biggest whales with real teeth are the sperm whales, monsters which in the old whaling days could crush boats in their mouths like kindling wood. But it was the big lower jaw which gave them such power; the teeth themselves were quite small for their size (notice the size in relation to Jerry who is examining one) and are rounded in shape rather than sharp. These teeth, however, are just right for biting off pieces of cuttlefish or squid which are the sperm whale's favorite food.

FOR YOU TO DO: See if you can find what "scrimshaw" means. A broad hint: it is connected with the designs of ships and ladies cut in the whales' teeth which Jerry is looking at. But who put the designs there and why?

Peter Furmanick of Worcester, Mass., wins today's combined prize of Compton's Illustrated Science Dictionary plus $10 cash, for this question. Mail yours on a postcard to Junior Editors in care of The Review.
